The Assembly will continue its session during the elections.

A gunboat left Paris yesterday for the mouth of the Seine.

The mortality is increasing in Paris in consequence of the arrival of large numbers of emigrants from the ceded provinces. Neither the cholera nor the typhus is, however, prevalent.

The review of one hundred thousand troops at Long Champs has now been fixed for next Sunday.

M. Gambetta refuses to acknowledge the mandate of the Assembly, accompanying his refusal with a declaration that the Assembly ceased to exist when it voted to ratify the treaty.

Subscription books for the new French loan will be opened on Monday next.

Destruction of Indian Crops.

LONDON, June 22.—Later despatches from Bombay state that it was the nutmeg and mace crops of the Banda Islands in the Malay Archipelago which have been destroyed by the hurricane instead of the cotton crop of the district of Banda, India. The loss is estimated at five hundred thousand pounds sterling, and the planters will not recover from the blow for years to come.

Spain Will Preserve the Integrity of Cuba.

MADRID, June 22.—In the Cortes last evening the Minister of the Colonies declared that Spain would preserve the integrity of Cuba so long as men and arms were forthcoming. He admitted that there was a ministerial crisis, and added that the Cabinet would resign. After approval by the Cortes of the address to the Crown, all amendments to the address were withdrawn and the discussion proceeded.

Preservation of the Peace of Europe.

LONDON, June 22.—The Post says there is an understanding between the Governments of Germany, Austria and Russia for the preservation of the peace of Europe.

The Ministry of Finance is returning to Paris, and will take up its quarters at the Louvre.

The candidates for the Assembly from the department of the North are General Faidherbe and M. Festedin, Republicans, and M.M. Denedouchel and Dupont, Legitimists. The rumor that M. Le Favre had gone to England is false.

Terrible Railway Accident.

The British Parliament.

LONDON, June 22.—In the House of Commons tonight the bill authorizing the construction of horse railroads in London was rejected. Several Government measures were withdrawn in consequence of the approaching prorogation of Parliament. Mr. Lowe, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that it was impossible to discontinue the pension of £4,000 granted the descendants of Wm. Penn, in consequence of the American revolution. The present recipient of the pension is one Wm. Stewart. Lowe added, in reply to a question, that he would cause an investigation as to the possibility of commuting the pension on Government three per cent. annuities.

NEWS SUMMARY

BY TELEGRAPH.

A mineralogist in San Francisco claims to have discovered a process of amalgamating iron and copper, producing a compound harder than steel. A company is forming to test the process.

A dispatch from Hazelton, Pa., says: The acceptance by the miners, at Monday's meeting, of the operators' offer is not equivalent to the resumption of work. There are many points of difference between the men and their employers, aside from the amount of wages to be paid for cutting coal, and the differences have not been touched. It is now stated authoritatively that the operators will not allow the men to resume work until all questions are settled, and all points of dispute yielded by the miners. There is little doubt but the men will concede everything shortly, but that the meeting accomplished little or nothing in that direction.

The New York State Editorial Convention assembled at Saratoga yesterday morning.

The coopers of Boston and vicinity held a meeting at Faneuil Hall, Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Coopers' International Union of North America, the object of which was to discuss the evils connected with the business, with a view of reform.

The season opened at Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, with a large number of visitors from all points in the United States and Europe.

The natives of Alsace and Lorraine, resident of California, unite in a protest against the cession of the provinces to Germany, and are determined to remain French citizens.

There were apprehensions among the friends of John F. Tracey, President of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern Railroads, that he was among the unfortunates of yesterday's operations on the New York Stock Exchange, but the Chicago Journal of yesterday afternoon says that, instead of Mr. Tracey being a heavy loser, he is on the winning side.

The Illinois Legislature adjourned yesterday to meet in Chicago in November next.

A special from South Bend, Ind., yesterday, says Vice President Colfax is speedily recovering his health, and the prospect is that he will soon be as well as ever.

The Evening Journal is authorized on the highest authority to give unqualified denial to the statement which was made in its columns a few days since and telegraphed over the country, that several Bishops of the church, including one of the high church, had remonstrated with Bishop Whitehouse, both personally and by letter, against the deposition of Rev. Mr. Cheney.

There was great excitement at Bloomfield, N. J., yesterday morning, occasioned by the citizens being called out by violent ringing of church bells to resist the encroachments of the Midland road, for which a bridge is about to be built across Patterson turnpike in that village. Several hundred citizens rallied and drove away the railroad men, who are about to seek legal remedy.

President Grant and wife, with a few friends from Elizabeth, drove through Newark, N. J., yesterday, on his way to Long Branch, calling on Senator Frelinghuysen on the route.

The Catholics of Cincinnati having made arrangements to close their celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Pope Pius IX. with a grand concert in the evening at Mozart Hall, Mayor Davis addressed the Trustees of that Hall requesting them to inform the persons who had rented the room that the concert was in violation of law and would not be allowed.

Chief Justice Chase is yet at the residence of Henry Probasco, in Clifton. He rode horseback yesterday, first for a long time, and will depart for the Springs Saturday morning, making both, Toledo and Detroit on the way. He will probably make a short stop at the latter city.

Rev. Dr. Bernard Illowy, a well-known Jewish Rabbi, who has officiated in Baltimore, Rochester, St. Louis, New Orleans and Cincinnati, was thrown from his buggy on Wednesday on the way from Lebanon to Foster's Crossing, Ohio, where he resided, and so injured in the spine that he died last evening.

THE WEST INDIES.

Opposition to Annexation—The Cable Successfully Laid from St. Kitts to Antigua.

JACMEL, May 23.—The newspapers of the country are full of protests sent to President Saget by different parties of the country against annexation to the United States, and are determined to maintain the independence of the Republic.

ST. THOMAS, May 30.—News from Antigua is to the effect that the cable has been successfully laid from St. Kitts to that island. The Island of St. Thomas is, therefore, already in communication with two of the windward islands by cable.

POLITICAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Governor Henry Haight was nominated by the Democratic State Convention on an anti-railroad subsidy platform on the first ballot. The convention nominated Lewis, of Tehama, for Lieutenant Governor, and Jackson Temple and Selden Wright for Supreme Judges. The platform opposes Chinese immigration and railroad subsidies, and accepts the result of the war and the Constitution as it now stands.

HARTFORD, CT., June 22.—While making a speech in the House to-day upon the question of the appropriation of money for the new Capitol building at Hartford, Hon. W. W. Eaton was taken with a fainting fit and sank into his seat. The House immediately took a recess. Mr. Eaton was taken to his residence and there was no further consideration of the question under discussion. Mr. Eaton is comfortable this evening. The Senate appropriated $12,000 annually for the State Normal School.

MEMPHIS, June 22.—The Memphis and Selma Railroad has been mortgaged to Porter King, of Selma, Ala.; Abram S. Humphreys, of Columbus, Miss., and Ira M. Hill, of Memphis, for four and a quarter millions, to secure the first mortgage bonds.

THIRTY-THREE YEARS AGO.

So rapidly does time fly, so quickly do events roll one upon another, in such rapid succession, and so accustomed are we to the inception and completion of great enterprises, that we make but little note of them. Even the successful laying of a telegraphic cable from our Pacific coast to the Chinese shores, or the completion of half a dozen railroads to the Pacific, would, we imagine, make less of a ripple on the affairs of the times, than did the completion of the double-track Harlem Railroad to New York. We give below an extract taken from the New York Express for October 5, 1839. It will be interesting to many of this day to know what were considered obstacles in a time not long ago, and to learn that this Company expended the enormous sum of "eleven hundred thousand dollars:"

HARLEM RAILROAD.

CELEBRATION OF THE COMPLETION OF THE DOUBLE TRACK.—The enterprising railroad company yesterday celebrated the final completion of their great work; for great it may truly be called, when we see their formidable and successful efforts. They have evacuated, blasted, and leveled formidable rocks—filled up deep revines and valleys—constructed substantial bridges—and laid down most secure and permanent rails. There are very few companies that have encountered more formidable obstacles than the Directors of this company. Besides the apparent difficulties of making a road through miles of solid rocks, they have had to encounter prejudices of every discription. Various interests have, from time to time, been arrayed agains them. Legislative and corporation grants and privileges have been meted out to them at times in the most stinted manner, and last and not least they have been compelled to raise vast sums of money at periods when the financial embarrassments of the company were great beyond parallel. With all these formidable obstacles they have persevered through evil and through good report. They have been patient and humble applicants for the necessary legislative and corporation enactments. They have gone on steadily and perseveringly with their work, and have employed thousands of laborers, all of whom they have honorably paid. At last they have reached the completion of the scheme, and have laid down a double track from the centre of the city to the extent of their limits—Harlem river—at the expense of eleven hundred thousand dollars.

At this celebration were many of the prominent men of New York, and many toasts were given which included the President of the United States, Governor of New York, &c.; and in answer to number twelve, we note the following by General George P. Morris, which is now fulfilled prophecy. The toast is a good one:

By General George P. Morris—The Great Atlantic and Pacific Railroad of the year 1900:

"Modern philosphy anon,
Will, at the rate she's rushing on,
Yoke lightning to her railroad car,
And posting like a shooting star,
Swift as a solar radiation,
Ride the grand circuit of the nation."

REV. DR. DAVID STRANG.

Something About the Accuser of Consul General at Alexandria.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I have read with interest the letter of the Rev. Dr. David Strang, American Missionary in Egypt, relative to the United States Consul General at Alexandria, and various comments of the press concerning the subject, and think it is a duty which I owe to Dr. Strang to state what I know of his character and history.

At the breaking out of the war of the Rebellion he was pursuing his studies and teaching in the far West, and through letters from his home at New Wilmington, Pa., he learned that I had recruited the "Roundhead Regiment," mainly in his old neighborhood, in Lawrence and Mercer counties, and that many of his old acquaintances were in its ranks. He at once closed his engagements and his books, and started for New Wilmington, where on his arrival, he learned that we were in South Carolina. He stopped with my family at New Castle, and learned that the late Major T. J. Hamilton was expected to arrive in a few days to open a recruiting office for the regiment. He then stopped with Dr. M. P. Barker till the Major arrived and at once enlisted as a private. The first notice I had of him was a letter from my little daughter informing me that she had enlisted a recruit for me, and turned him over to her "uncle Jeff." (Major Hamilton), and asking me to favor him for her sake, giving me his name and history as far as she knew it. At that time such things were common all over the country, and did much towards attracting the notice of officers to particular men, typical of a class not generally found in the ranks of an army.

Private Strang joined the command on the eve of the battle of South Mountain, and as the regiment had already been in three hard battles, he found himself amongst veterans. He had never had any drilling in the manuel of arms, and according to rule need not have gone into action till he had been properly drilled. But he willed otherwise, and in a few minutes he mastered the mystery of loading and firing a musket, and took his place in line of battle in the morning of the 14th of September, at the foot of the South Mountain. During all that long day of battle he bore himself in such a manner as to attract the attention of his officers and elicit the praise of his comrades. At the battle of Antietam, three days afterwards, he also conducted himself so conspicuously as to win promotion, and was appointed a Sergeant in his company.

Sergeant Strang served with his regiment in all its campaigns, until, at the battle of Cold Harbor, he received a desperate wound, which laid him in hospital for many long months, and finally caused his discharge on account of disability. He was a perfect soldier, a very model, though he was but one of several hundreds of just such men in that old "Roundhead regiment." No lover of strife nor bloodshed, he assumed the role of the soldier from pure motives of duty, and his sensitive idea of truth, and his high-strung sense of moral responsibility in every phase of position, made him very dear to all who knew him, and none knew him but to trust him. Wherever there was an advanced post, requiring unusual vigilance combined with an intelligent audacity, and Sergeant Strang was on duty, we rested securely and were never surprised. After his discharge he resumed his studies, and finally went to Egypt, where he superintended the printing of Christian literature (for he is a printer) as translated into the Coptic, or modern Egyptian language. And, finally, his great worthiness has won for him a general's star on the frontier of European civilization, where it maintains its solitary picket post in the shadow of the pyramids in the land of the Pharaohs. True to his unerring instincts, he has made a "battery" of the press, and turns the crashing blaze of its artillery upon the dark mind of the "heathen" Egyptian, well knowing that with the literature and science of Europe and America will also come the more benign influences of the religion of which he is himself so worthy an exemplar.

I don't know anything about the present Consul General of Egypt nor his peccadillos, but if Sergeant David Strang, of Company B, says that he is not a true man nor fit for his position, then the "powers that be" may hunt up a successor for him as soon as possible, for Sergeant Strang never made a false report nor deceived his superior officer.

The prominence of the Rev. Dr. Strang's position just now calls for his indorsement by those of his countrymen who know him best, and as one who knows him but to honor him, I bear this testimony to his truth, worth and bravery, and I know that I but give utterance to the thoughts of every man in the old regiment who remembers his modest worth and iron courage.

DANIEL LEASURE,
Late Colonel One Hundredth regiment Pennsylvania Veteran Volunteers, Brevet Brigadier General.

ALLEGHENY CITY, PA., June 22, 1871.

A Decadence That is Not Alarming.

Referring to the frequent "notes of alarm" at the decadence of New England, the falling off in population, &c., the Boston Traveller remarks: Under the old American system of farming there is employment for less cultivators of the soil than formerly, as the stumps and other impediments have been removed, and enduring stone walls have taken the place of rapidly perishing brush fences, and machinery is proving so effective a helper to the husbandman. To these causes alone the falling off in numbers of our strictly agricultural population is due. The traveler through the farming districts will find better buildings, and finer cattle, and sleeker horses and more improved farming tools than there were a generation ago, and upon inquiry it will be ascertained, too, that there are fewer mortgages upon the farms, and fewer of the farmers and their sons who are the subjects of King Alcohol. They may find fewer dwellings upon the bleak hillsides and along the old roads that were laid out on the theory that it is nearer over a hill than around it, but instead of the old, uncomfortable, wind-beaten homes, there are neat cottages in sunny places sheltered from the wintry storms, clustered it may be in little hamlets around a schoolhouse, or a waterfall where some little factory or mill gives employment at the season when there is little work upon farms. And there has been a steady consolidation of farms in many places, the parties selling moving to the vicinity of the villages, where they cultivate little patches of land, raising garden sauce and fruit and berries, and keeping bees and poultry, and thus getting a living with less of labor than on the old homestead, and enjoying many privileges hitherto unattainable. This tide now flowing toward the villages is likely to continue, and the villages to spread out, as long as there are fertile lots for these little garden-farms available. The large farms cultivated by machinery will continue as profitable as they were before the consolidation, and the aggregate products of each district will be as great as ever, while there will be a large increase of the aggregate wealth.

Another Napoleonic Coup d'Etat Foreshadowed.

A New York letter says: The German bankers attribute much importance to the cable announcement (Tuesday afternoon) that instructions have come from Berlin to stop the return of the Prussian troops from France, and to discontinue the surrender of French prisoners. Taken in connection with the postponement of the intended grand military review by the Versailles Government, because of an apprehension that the French troops would shout Vive l'Empereur, it is interpreted as foreshadowing some sort of a coup which will upset Thiers and restore the empire. The German bankers, of course, are neither prophets, nor the sons of prophets, but their interpretations of cable news during the late war were so marvelously correct as to impress the outside public that they must have some secret sources of information, not available to other parties. Whether their conjectures in this case will be as accurately borne out or not, remains to be seen.

LAFAYETTE COLLEGE.

Annual Commencement Exercises—Baccalaureate Sermon and Address—Sermon Before the Brainerd Society—Colonel A. K. McClure's Address to the Literary Societies—"Everyday Life"—Concert, &c., &c.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

EASTON, PA., June, 21, 1871.

SUNDAY.

The Baccalaureate sermon was preached Sunday morning by President Cattell. He took as his text the words: "The children of Ephraim being armed with bows, turned back in the day of battle." He referred to the conspicuous place occupied by the children of Ephraim among the Jews, and to the curse that rested on them for turning back when the command was to go forward. In his address to the graduating class he spoke of the high place that men of cultured minds are fitted to occupy, of the number and the ability of the present graduating class, and of the wonderful blessing of God upon it, which had led thirty-six of the thirty-eight in the class to consecrate themselves to the service of Christ. This class was indeed a marked class, prominent among all the classes that had graduated at Lafayette. The time is a time when men of talent and education are needed to grapple with the giant adversaries of revealed truth. He then applied his discourse in a very happy and impressive manner. After the sermon, the class all stood up and sang

"Nearer, my God, to Thee."

In the evening the annual sermon before the Brainerd Society was delivered by the Rev. S. A. Mutchmore, of Philadelphia, who preached here during the great revival last fall, when there were nearly ninety inquirers and over sixty united with various churches. His subject was "True manhood: the relation which culture and religion have in forming the true man." The sermon was eloquent, and was listened to with wrapt attention for an hour and a quarter by the very large audience that crowded the church for an hour and twenty minutes.

MONDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Monday morning the Biblical examinations took place. In the afternoon a very large audience assembled on the college campus to hear the senior class day exercises, which consisted of an oration by Mr. Wiely; the class history by the historian of the class, Mr. O. J. Harvey; a poem by Mr. John Scollay; the tree oration by Mr. E. Bryan; presentation address by Mr. J. S. Axtell; physiognomic-craniological examination of the whole class, with a lecture on the science of physiognomic craniology, by Mr. Edgar, and the closing address by Mr. Owen. The class presented Mr. D. B. King, who is to remain in college as a tutor, with a mammoth tin horn which had been used to call the class together when they met to transact business of any kind. A check was presented to the librarians of the College for $175, to subscribe for the publications of the three learned English societies for the publication of early English texts. These publications are of great value to those who wish to study the English language thoroughly, and can be found only in a very few of the best libraries in the country. The class of 1871 has been noted for its enterprise, having successfully started the Lafayette Monthly, and begun so well the custom prevalent in many colleges of leaving books in the library as a memento of the class. In Princeton the custom has been in vogue for several years, the present class voting $100 to the library.

The audience seemed well pleased with the exercises of the afternoon. Dodworth's Band, twenty pieces, was present and discoursed some of that delightful music for which they are so much noted.

In the evening the classday concert was attended by a large crowd. Comment on the concert is unnecessary, when it is said that it was given by Dodworth's Orchestra, with the celebrated Filomena as violinist. Everybody was delighted.

TUESDAY.

Yesterday morning the two Literary Societies, the Washington and the Franklin, held their reunion, which was largely attended. The orator of the Washington was Mr. Andrew C. Trippe, of Baltimore, of the class of 1857; of the Franklin, Mr. Walter Quincy Scott, of the class of 1869. Both gentlemen delivered able and eloquent orations, which were listened to with marked attention.

The Alumni Association met in the afternoon, when Rev. U. McFetridge, of Oil City, recited a beautiful poem on "Peace," and Rev. J. E. Nassau, of the Quarter Century Class, delivered an oration.

Tuesday evening the Literary Societies assembled at Brainerd Church, and listened to the oration of Hon. A. K. McClure, of Philadelphia, which was characterized by breadth of conception, clearness of statement, fertility of illustration, compactness and mental grip. The subject chosen by the orator was the common, homely theme of "Every Day Life," but he invested it with a force and dignity such as it has seldom worn upon platforms. It was a noble appeal to the students to devote their varied knowledge and culture to the benefit of their fellows. Starting with the key-thought that

"He most lives,
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

He showed how the whole family of man is mingled in a mutual mass of teachers and pupils, and how each individual life should take its part in advancing and elevating the human race. Complimenting the young scholars upon their attainments, he said:

"If I were to call upon the learned young men before me to tell of the great epochs of human history, you would answer promptly and correctly. I could tell you nothing of the world's mutations that would be novel to you. So much you have learned, or are learning, well. Do not understand me as assuming that you should have learned more, for I have already told you that life is one unending lesson; and here, when all has been done that can be done, you are only fitted to begin the great study. Let me kindly, and, I trust, pleasantly and profitably, lead you from the stilted plane that youthful ambition builds, to look into the fountains which have given the world its varied eras. You have studied its heroes, its sages, its patriots, its poets, its scholars, and its masters. I would now have you study the sources whence they came."

In the development of his idea he pointed out how the marked events of the world's history may always be traced to the every day life of the peoples who were the chief actors therein, reinforcing his argument with illustrations of a most pertinent kind, the following, relating to the impressive lesson of the recent German-Franco war, being particularly to the point. He said:

"We read and speak of Bismarck and Napoleon as if they were its authors. They were but borne by the flood-tide to the grand consummation. Had Bismarck been a Frenchman, he would have rotated from local turbulence to exile; and had Napoleon been a Prussian, he would have been a third-rate author or a soldier unknown to fame. But while France was declining in the moral, mental and physical qualities of her citizens, the German people, under a weak but honest ruler, were advancing in all that developes and ennobles a nation. It was said that the German universities triumphed over the Austrians at Sadowa, and that in the late war the soldier of Von Moltke marched with a professor's gown in his knapsack. These are exaggerated but significant delineations of the every-day life of the German people who won at Gravelotte, at Sedan, at Metz, at Strasburg and at Paris. The every-day purity, patriotism, industry, religious zeal and universal education of the German people, ripened them for German unity. The Fatherland is their first love, and Bismarck was the master architect to rebuild the lost empire. Calm, clear-sighted German statesmanship, called him as the best type of the nation's want, and he saw the foundations well laid, and everything at hand for the imposing structure. He could not miscalculate the venture. The every-day life of forty millions of Germans was steadily and surely preparing them for the great work, and he gathered the fulness of their just reward. William now wears the imperial crown, and the princes are marshals of the empire, and Bismarck is prince of the realm—all wearing well-earned honors; but the thoughtful historian will record the story of the households of the fatherland, moulding the solidarity of the German peoples."

His presentation of the causes, objects and results of our own war, was equally thoughtful and forcible.

"The grave questions to be decided in the cabinet and in the field, we decided ourselves in our every-day actions. Our every-day education and advancement advanced the statesman and standards of the nation, and as a people we were almost imperceptibly and unconsciously working out to its crowning triumph—man's noblest struggle for man. The thoughtless and superficial blamed the politicians, and charged them with the country's misfortunes. It was not so. They were bad enough, and may have quickened the conflict; but when the passions of civil strife shall subside, and the impartial historian comes to record the most thrilling annals of civilized warfare, it will be truthfully told, that two brave and powerful peoples had exhausted compromise on irreconcilable differences of national policy, and accepted the inevitable arbitrament of the sword."

Here are some wise words which other students than those to whom they were addressed will do well to remember:

"I would not seek to dim the lustre that brightens the memory of the names which are interwoven with the world's great events. Not one leaf should be plucked from their laurels. They are as bright beacons along the dark ways of our journey, and they are standards which invite emulation. The higher you place your standards, the higher will be the measure of your attainment. You may fall short of the realization of your dreams, but no earnest efforts in the right direction can be wholly lost. Still behind you, and far off yet behind others, will be struggling mortals to take fresh inspiration by what you, in your failure, have won, but what I would most pointedly illustrate is the value and influence and duty of each individual every-day life. But few even of the most learned can have their names inscribed on what we call the "scroll of fame;" but that rare attainment is not the true measure of a great life. I speak of what all classes are most prone to forget, and what the ambitious and cultivated youth, more than others, is likely to overlook. You turn to the monuments of greatness as preserved in the history of human efforts; but you are unmindful that the sources of all memorable events, and of all distinguished benefactors, are the infinite individual beings who make up the family of mankind. Well-directed ambition animates to noble deeds and adorns a noble life; but the faithful aim should be to make one pure, unselfish, earnest every-day existence. The value of such a life is incalculable. It may not be heralded to the world, or be notable in history, but it is a perpetual well-spring of blessings to its author, and to all within the range of its influence, and the end of its good offices cannot be measured."

The address was throughout of this helping and lifting character, and can hardly fail to result in great practical good. Col. McClure is himself an example of what a practical, every-day man, whose life is filled with incessant generosities and activities, may accomplish before his hair turns gray.

England Preparing to Depart.

A Halifax letter regarding coming events makes the following interesting statements: "It is daily becoming apparent that England is gradually, but surely, preparing to take her departure from this continent. Rumors are rife of intended changes. One of these is that immediately on the ratification of the two high contracting powers—England and the United States—the naval command at Halifax will be reduced to a commodorship, and the place will cease to be a port of rendezvous for the fleet. I also learn that within the present week the admiral on this station received instructions per cable, from England, to the effect that the fishery question having been settled by the treaty, the necessity for protecting the fisheries no longer exists. The English war vessel in the Bay will be recalled. The duty of protecting, this season, if any protection is needed, must, therefore, be performed by the Canadian cruisers. A large quantity of stores and ammunition are on the way here from Quebec. On the breaking up of the Imperial depot at Quebec, all the stores not turned over to the Canadians were ordered on here. A vessel is now loading heavy and light ordnance at the ordnance wharf in Halifax for Woolrich. These are being removed in anticipation of the withdrawal of the headquarters from Halifax. These and various other little matters that are continually happening, indicate the tide into which affairs are drifting. England wants to be rid of us; and one of these fine days, she will bid us adieu, and let us shift for ourselves. The people of these provinces are becoming less and less British, and more and more American in thought and sentiment. The public men of Great Britain see this, and they are gradually paving the way for the colonists to assume control of their own destinies.

FIRES.

CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

CHICAGO, June 22.—A fire occurred at Champaign, Ill., this morning, which destroyed Pevette & Green's hardware store, Maxwell's drugs store, Steel's one dollar store, the Champaign County Gazette office, Eppstien's tobacco store, Bower's saloon, Mrs. Carr's millinery store, Mrs. Grooms's millinary store, Swarb's tobacco store, and burned severel other buildings. Loss $40,000.

STATE POLITICS.

The Lewistown Gazette has hoisted the name of President Grant for re-election in 1872.

Following is the Republican ticket nominated by the Republican Convention of Greene county: Assembly, P. L. Kramer; Associate Judges, Elias Stone and J. A. Billingsly; Treasurer, Thomas Hill; Commissioner, Samuel Harvey; Poor Director, Thomas P. Smith; Surveyor, Abner Fordyce; Auditor, Jacob S. Moore. Resolutions were adopted indorsing the State ticket and platform.

The Greensburg Herald says: How do Capt. J. J. Beirer, Dr. Piper, S. Warden, Noah Marker, Mr. Brenneman and Byron, late candidates for nomination on the Democratic Assembly tiaket, like the idea of W. A. Wallace—("Coffee Pot Wallace" and prospective candidate for United States Senator)—sending a large sum of money into this county to beat them, and nominate Latta and Greenwalt? Yet he did this very thing, that he might secure two men to vote for him, right or wrong. We have this fact from a reliable source, that we have no reason to question. If it is denied, it is no story of ours; it comes from Democrats East.

The Washington Reporter says: The ticket placed in nomination by our County Convention on Monday is composed of good men and true, all of whom deserve the cordial support of the party. If there be a Republican in the county who cannot cheerfully and cordially support this ticket from top to bottom we do not know it. To secure its triumphant election we have only to organize our forces, discard all private and personal considerations and give it our united aid and enthusiastic support. There is mutiny in the camp of the enemy. Let there be none in ours.

The West Chester Jeffersonian is still in revolt, and it would not surprise us to see it pull down in its next issue the negro suffrage ticket headed by McCandless and Cooper. In its edition of Saturday it says of those who were instrumental in the "New Departure:" "The Democracy of Chester county are almost a unit upon this question, and rather than allow these tricksters to destroy the party they will consign them to an ignominous grave."

The Fulton Republican says: "The editor of th Valley Spirit, who raved so fearfully in the Court House in McConnellsburg last fall, and who declared that, when the Democrats got into power, they would abolish the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments, last week took it all back, and swallowed the nigger wool, smell, social equality, political equality, big heels, flat noses and all at one gulp, and declared that he felt better than he ever did in his life before. But he beseechingly asks his Democratic friends not to refer to it again, as it creates a nauseous feeling on his stomach. Heavens! what a bitter pill those editors had to swallow, who were so much afraid of social equality. They make wry faces, but come nobly up to the work."

The Democracy of Fulton county met in Convention at Harrisonville, on Saturday the 10th inst., and nominated Daniel Logan and Thomas Lipes, for Associate Judges; John Martin, for Sheriff; James Scott, for Surveyor, and George Hally for Commissioner. The Republican says that the ticket is respectable.

The Indiana Messenger says: "It is asserted by those who should know whereof they speak, that Capt. H. K. Sloan, of this county, received a handsome majority of the votes polled for Senator at the recent Democratic primary election held in Westmoreland county. Nevertheless, in order to carry out the bargain and sale entered into by the would-be leaders of the Democracy of the two counties, the conferees were awarded to J. J. Hazlett, of Westmoreland."

THE COOLIE HOLOCAUST.

Survivors' Account of the Burning of the Ship Don Juan—How the Coolies are Captured and Stored—Horrible Treatment.

Details are at hand of the burning of the ship Don Juan at sea with six hundred and fifty Coolies on board, most of whom perished in the flames. The following is a statement from one of the survivors, published in the Overland China Mail:

HOW THE COOLIES ARE HIRED.

Leung Ashew said: I am twenty years old. I have no employment. A few days ago a cousin of mine took me to Macao to get me employment, and lodged me in a foreigner's house. I stayed three days in this house. I was then taken to a barracoon, where I stopped two days. I was then taken before an officer. An interpreter told me that I was to go to Peru to work for $4 00 a month. He told me that if I was not willing to go I was to be sent to the chain-gan for six years, and thereafter to be put into a dungeon for two years. I had no option but to put my name to a printed form, which had Chinese and European writing on it. A seal was then placed on it. I was paid $8 in silver; I was given two suits of clothes, a wadded jacket, and a pair of shoes. No bedding of whatever kind was given, not even a mat. I was then marched into a boat with several hundred others. There were several boats. Some foreigners guarded us. They carried muskets and drawn swords—about one to every ten men.

HOW THEY ARE STOWED.

We were all put into a large hold. The grating of the hatch was always down. There were two hatchways, and each had an iron grating. Before the ship sailed we were allowed on deck two by two each time. But after the ship sailed we were not allowed on deck at any time, not even for necessary purposes. Twelve men were told off as cooks. They were allowed on deck. The hatch gratings were only opened to lower down our meals. Nobody was allowed to smoke. We had five lights in the hold all night long. There were about ten foreigners acting as sentries in the hold. They were on duty night and day. They were relieved at intervals.

THE BURNING OF THE SHIP.

On the third day after we sailed, shortly after our breakfast, there was a fire on board. The fire occurred in the aft part, in a room adjoining our hold. The smoke came into our hold in a great volume; it had a strong smell of gunpowder; I heard no explosion whatever before the alarm of fire; there was no foreigner in the hold at the time; no foreigner came into our hold during the fire; the hatch grating was never opened all the while; the smoke came in very thick, and a great many were suffocated; more than one hour after the smoke first came into our hold the hatch grating was torn off by somebody. We all made a rush for the hatchway. When I came up the whole ship from the mainmast to the stern was a mass of flames. The foremast had not caught fire then. About twenty men clung to the rigging, and there were more than ten others holding to the bowsprit. I was holding on to the anchor chain. When the fire reached the wood work which held the anchor chain, I was tumbled into the sea with the anchor. I could swim a little, and I swam to a burnt spar which was floating on the water. When I fell into the water it was about one hour after I came out of the hold. When I came on deck I could not see any foreigners, nor did I see any boats.

I was picked up by a fishing junk that passed in the evening of the same day the fire occurred. The junkmen wanted us to give them money before they would pick us up. I had some money with me, $5, the balance of my advance of $8 at the barracoon. I paid them $5, and the junkmen picked me up. The junkmen refused to take in my companions, four in number, because they had no money to pay them. These four men wanted to get into this junk, but the junkmen pushed them back, and they had to remain on the spar. I do not know the number of the junk. When I was picked up I could see that there were over ten others floating on a spar a long way off. The junk took me to Hong-Kong. I could not tell how the fire originated. On our way here in that fishing junk we saw many persons on the water, but the junk people would not receive them as they had no money. Before I left the burning wreck I saw blood oozed from the sides of the vessel, from the hold where the coolies were lodged.

SHOOTING THE DROWNING COOLIES.

Another survivor, Hu Afui, in the course of his statement says: When I came on deck the boat was about a cheung (about thirteen feet) from the ship. A great many Chinese wanted to swim to the boat. A mast was floating on the water, and a great many were clinging to it. The boat was close to the mast and I was standing at the side of the burning ship, intending to jump into the water and get hold of the spar. The Europeans in the boats warned us not to go near with swords, and one of them, a short man, had a pistol in his hand. He fired at me and shot me on the leg. A fishing junk was attracted to us. The junkmen picked up all up. The fire at this time had reached to the copper sheathing close to the water's edge. The treatment on board ship was very fair, but rather severe, because we were whipped very often by the sentries. I believe the fire occurred through explosion of gunpowder. We had no light of any kind in the hold. We were not allowed to smoke in the hold, but could do so on deck.

THE SHOOTING CORROBORATED.

Another of the passengers, Chu Akwai, said: When I came on deck the whole ship was on fire. There was a great smoke. It was very thick. I could not see through it. I clung to the rigging of the foremast. When the mast was burned it fell into the water. I fell with it into the water. When I came on deck I could not see any foreigners or any boats, as the smoke was very thick. I remained on the spar till daybreak. A fishing junk came and took us up. The ship was still burning at the time; all the wood work of the ship had burnt, leaving only the iron sheathing of the hull. I heard a discharge of firearms previous to the fire. When the fire occurred no European was in the hold. I could not say why the firearms were discharged. I heard no explosion whatever. No European came into the hold with a hose. We had no quarrel or fight in the hold.

STATEMENT OF THE SEAMEN.

About 9 A. M. on Saturday—so runs the seamen's story—the Chinese mutinied, revolted, showed signs of taking possession. They tore up their berths and the woodwork about their bunks, and using the planks as a battering-ram they broke down the bulkhead and got into the lazarette, which was direct aft. This was when about a hundred miles from land, steering east. Having got through the bulkhead and into the lazarette the coolies piled up the lumber thus torn up and set fire to the ship by its means. When those on deck saw what the "passengers" had done, a hose was got down into the hold; but the coolies deliberately threw it overboard through one of the side-lights. The fire was apparently lighted aft, with the purpose of forcing all those living overhead to go forward and thus simplify the capture of the vessel. It is even said that, on being asked through the grating what they wanted, the coolies declared their intention of taking the ship. However improbable this may appear, it is alleged the coolies openly stated their purpose. It is presumed that they expected the fire would be easily extinguished, and that they never anticipated the horrible death in store for them.

The Peach Trade.

The latest advices from Maryland and Delaware, the great Northern ground for peaches, represent that the crop this year promises to be very good. The quantity will be considerably above that of last year, and fully equal to the crop of 1869. In quality, too, the peaches this year are expected to be fully up to the average. The first peaches from Delaware will probably reach the market about the 4th of July, and possibly some parcels from Maryland a few days earlier. The peaches now sold in small quantities are from the South. They are decidedly inferior, diminutive in size, and only half ripe. Unless some untoward event should injure the peaches this year, they will probably be sold at very moderate prices, so that all classes will be able to partake of them in abundance.

THE PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.

Commencement Exercises—Performances of the Graduating Class—Additional Prizes Awarded, etc.

The commencement exercises of the Pittsburgh Female College were held last evening, in the college chapel, in the presence of a very large and highly fashionable audience. There were six young ladies in the graduating class, namely: Miss Lida A. Brown, of Saltsburg; Miss Florence A. Hartupee, Pittsburgh; Miss Kate Collier, Sharpsburg; Miss Mary F. McIllyar, Pittsburgh; Miss Agnes M. Kerr, Birmingham, and Miss Emma P. Sawyer, Marine, Illinois.

The exercises opened with an instrumental duet, by Mrs. Blessner and Miss S. Patterson, after which prayer was offered by Rev. I. N. Baird, D. D. Next was a song, "Scenes that are Brightest," by Miss Minnie Mapel—a somewhat difficult piece, creditably rendered.

The first performance of the graduating class was a Salutatory by Miss Lida A. Brown—a very free and pleasing production, exhibiting terseness and vigor of thought. This was followed by an instrumental duet by Mrs. Blessner and Miss A. Helfrick. Essay, "The School of Life," by Miss Florence A. Hartupee—very beautifully written, and well read. Trio, "Distant Chimes," by Misses F. Harding, E. Hinderiter and J. Harding—a very delightful vocal performance, which elicited warm applause.

Then followed a Latin essay, "De Laboris Necessitate," by Miss Kate Collier. If the composition was as faultless as the delivery was clear, distinct and uninterrupted, then this was a performance of which any graduate might be proud.

Miss Mary F. McIllyar next discussed the subject: "Who Shall be Greatest?" This essay embraced a series of beautiful thoughts, eloquently expressed.

Miss McMullen then favored the audience with that sparkling gem from Il Trovatore, "Pacea la Notte Placida," which was so admirably rendered that a repetition was demanded so emphatically as to admit of no denial.

"Onward" was the subject chosen by Miss Agnes M. Kerr, and to say that she exhibited writing talent of a high order is not extravagant. The essay was not only written with force, but eloquently delivered.

Miss Jean Wallace then sang, with power and sprightliness, a selection from La Traviata, which the audience desired her to repeat, but she was unfortunately too hoarse to comply.

The last performance of the graduating class was by Miss Emma P. Sawyer, who chose for her subject "The Intellect—a Mine that Pays the Worker." Her essay was a striking evidence of the proposition discussed, showing that she has worked the intellectual mine to advantage. She closed with the customary addresses to the Trustees, President and Teachers, schoolmates and classmates, which were touching and eloquent. In addressing the Trustees, and speaking of their sacrifice of time and money in the cause of female education, she made a happy allusion to the munificent gift of Mr. Thaw to the Western University, which excited applause throughout the entire audience.

Miss Sadie Cunningham than gave a brilliant piano solo, in which she sustained her well-earned reputation for accuracy and sprightliness. Rev. S. M. Gardner, of the Liberty street M. E. Church, then delivered the address to the graduates, in which he gave the young ladies some excellent advice, which they will do well to heed.

Dr. Pershing then conferred the degree of Mistress of English Literature upon each of the graduates, and handed each her diploma.

It was announced that the Trustees had just conferred the degree of M. A. on Miss Frances A. Fish, of the class of 1862, and Miss Annie E. Fish, of the class of 1865. Both these ladies are now teaching in the Wesleyan Female College, Cincinnati, and occupy high positions.

President Pershing then announced the award of prizes by the respective committees who examined the contestants, as follows:

To Miss Kate Collier for excellence in Latin; to Miss Jennie Patterson and Miss Lydia Green for excellence in Mathematics—(there was a tie between these two contestants, and each got a prize;) Mary M. Murtland for excellence in painting, and Amy Knox for excellence in drawing. Miss Murtland took the prize for drawing last year.

Dr. Pershing extended a cordial invitation to all citizens to call and look through the college buildings, examine the facilities they have for teaching, and then decide upon whether it was prudent to educate their daughters here, or to "go further and fare worse."

The audience was dismissed with the benediction by Dr. Davidson.

PENNSYLVANIA FEMALE COLLEGE—COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.—The Rev. Samuel J. Wilson, D.D., of Allegheny City, will deliver the annual address to the students of the Pennsylvania Female College in the Shadyside Presbyterian Church on Monday evening the 26th inst., at 7½ o'clock.

The patrons and friends of the College are invited to be present.

W. T. BEATTY,
Secretary Board of Trustees.

JOSEPH AUFFENBECK, of Birmingham, had three fingers cut from his hand, in the metal yard, Wednesday, while unloading car wheels. One of the wheels fell upon his hand, taking the three fingers off as though they had been amputated with a knife.

THE RETURN VISIT.

Baltimore Invites Pittsburgh to Return Her Call—The Invitation Cordially Accepted.

Mayor Brush, yesterday, received from Baltimore a copy of the following preamble and resolutions, the official invitation of the Mayor and Council of Baltimore, to the Mayor and Council of Pittsburgh, asking them to return the visit of the Baltimore party:

WHEREAS, The Mayor and City Council of Baltimore have recently accepted the hospitality of the city of Pittsburgh tendered to them for the occasion of the formal opening of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad; and

WHEREAS, In view of the valuable commercial intercourse about to be established between the two cities, it is important that the respective authorities should be fully acquainted with their respective interests; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore that the hospitalities be, and the same are hereby extended to the Mayor and City Councils of Pittsburgh, and be it further

Resolved, That a Committee of three members from each branch be appointed by the Chair to communicate with the Pittsburgh authorities, and ascertain when it may be their pleasure to visit Baltimore, and to make all necessary arrangements for the reception.

HENRY DUVALL, Prest. Second Branch.
GEO. W. BISHOP, Prest. First Branch.

Approved, ROBERT T. BANKS, Mayor.

Under the above resolutions, the following Joint Special Committee was appointed: Charles G. Kerr, Chairman, D. Constantine, Harry McVay, A. G. Trippe, Benj. Price, Joseph G. Johnston.

WM. H. COLE, Secretary.

The document was accompanied by a letter from the Select Committee to the Mayor, asking that the time be stated at which the visit to Baltimore would be practicable, and expressing the hope that the Pittsburgh party would accompany the Baltimore party on its return.

Mr. Lloyd, Chairman of the Pittsburgh Committee, telegraphed a cordial acceptance of the invitation; notified Mr. Kerr, of the Baltimore Committee, that it would be impossible to return with them; but assured him that the time would be fixed at an early day.

The Baltimorians, about four hundred in number, will leave Monday morning for this city. At the same time a special train will leave this city for Cumberland, to meet and escort our guests to the city. It is expected that the party will reach the depot about nine o'clock Monday evening. The guests will be composed mainly of the solid men of Baltimore—men of wealth, enterprise and business foresight—and it behooves us to receive and treat them as such. They come here to see our manufactories, to get acquainted with our merchants, and to open business relations with us. As the representative men of Baltimore they should be met and entertained by the representative men of Pittsburgh—men who are able to impart whatever information they may wish to obtain, and who are competent to give an intelligible idea of the extent and importance of our mercantile, manufacturing and shipping interests.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

CITY COUNCILS meet Monday afternoon next.

MURRAY, the "missing" man from Uniontown, has turned up at Columbus, Ohio. He writes to his wife that he is busy at work in his new location.

LIZZIE KELTON, a mulatto girl, made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, charging "Choff" Coofer with assault and battery. A warrant was issued.

THOSE interested in the Improvement Trust Company, will hold a meeting this evening, over the Third National Bank.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT some burglars attempted to burst open the safe in the County Treasurer's office at Beaver. They did not succeed, but they damaged the bolts so that the door had to be brought to this city for repairs.

MILTON H. LIGHTNER, a well known resident of this city, died suddenly on Wednesday evening, at the family residence, No. 829 Penn avenue. His father died a few days ago, and the survivors of the family have thus been visited with a double affliction.

ROBERT WRAY, JR., was arrested and taken before Alderman McMasters on a charge of forgery preferred by Alex. McGrier, a plumber, who alleges that the accused presented and obtained goods on an order to the amount of $10 50, purporting to have been remitted by Robt. Wray, Sr. A warrant was issued.

THE Duquesne Grays have decided to hold their parade on the 3d July instead of on the 4th. The battalion will turn out about four or five o'clock in the afternoon of the 3d, and after marching over several of the thoroughfares of the two cities, will halt in Union Park, Allegheny, where they will hold a dress parade.

THE old Washington graveyard, in the Seventeenth ward is said to be in a disgraceful condition from neglect. The property belongs to the city, and the fence having gone to decay, hogs, cattle and sacrilegeous boys roam through it at will. In some places the bones of persons interred have been rooted up, and lie expose. The tomb-stones are tumbling down, and the whole place is disgraceful to our civilization. The city authorities should give this matter their attention.

PATRICK MANSFIELD, who drowned himself in Zug's pond, has a wife residing in Brooklyn, New York. He had been boarding with Mrs. Eva Haddock, Ferry street, and after his death a letter came to the house, to his address. The Coroner opened the letter and found it had been written by Mrs. Bessie Mansfield, June 18th, and contained a request that her husband would inform her as to his circumstances, and promised to come to him if he had the means to support her. He had been drinking to excess, and evidently destroyed himself in a fit of delirium.

University Exercises To-Day.

The programme for to-day is as follows: Classes are examined till 11 A. M. Dr. Woods then delivers in the chapel his baccalaureate address to the students and the ladies and gentlemen who take an interest in scientific and philosophical discussions. At 3 P. M. the alumni meet at the University for business, and at 8 P. M. a large miscellaneous audience is looked for at the First Presbyterian Church to listen to the alumni oration and poem, the former by Rev. D. T. Carnahan, and the latter by Hon. E. P. Weston, of Chicago. Mr. C. Mellor is to preside at the organ.

THE street sweeping machine was tested on Wood street, yesterday, in the presence of members of the Street Committee. It worked well on the Nicholson, but was not tried on the cobbles. The committee will probably express their views of the apparatus to Councils, Monday afternoon.

WE have the most satisfactory reports from the meeting of the Republican State Committee which was held at Altoona on Wednesday. It was a significant and auspicious circumstance that nearly every county in the State was represented by earnest men, who in every instance brought encouraging reports as to the prospects attending the opening canvass. Not a particle of doubt as to the triumph of the Republican party was expressed from any quarter. Major ERRETT, the Chairman, will enter in the work of the thorough organization of the State without delay, and we trust that Republicans everywhere will prepare to respond promptly to the long roll.

THE wheat crop throughout Western Pennsylvania is reported as looking exceedingly well, and indicates a yield above the average. The heads are generally large, and the grain plump and full. In Allegheny county the wheat is almost ready for the reapers, and harvesting will begin at once, being fully ten days earlier than usual. With good weather most of the wheat will be harvested before the Fourth of July. The recent heavy rains and winds have beaten down much of the wheat, which will make it difficult and expensive to handle, but aside from this it is in prime condition, having escaped the more serious dangers of the fly, the rust, etc. When the husbandman thrives the whole country flourishes, and hence we congratulate our farmers upon their prospects for full granaries.

THE Republicans of Ohio appear to have had no difficulty in nominating a ticket and arranging a platform, both of which mean victory in the State this fall. Although the contest between NOYES and WADE was animated, the latter gave it up and the selection of the former was made without opposition. We conclude that the other nominations also are judicious, as is the platform, into which the "revenue reformers" did not succeed in injecting any appreciable amount of their heresy. It is said that General GRANT desired the nomination of WADE, but we conclude that this is a mere conjecture. There could not have been much of this kind of antagonism, as the convention indorsed the President and his administration heartily and with perfect unanimity. We expect confidently the Republicans will carry Ohio by a decided majority.

THE cumulative or preferential system of voting, to which we referred some time ago, is, we observe, being discussed with considerable interest in various quarters, more particularly South Carolina and Mississippi, both of which States have heavy negro majorities. We do not propose to question the fact that minorities have rights which majorities are bound to respect, or this system of proportional representation may not be the correct one; that which strikes us as singular is, that the demand for the adoption of the system should be limited to those States alone in which the Republican element strongly predominates. It is possible that the plan might work well in Mississippi and South Carolina, but would it not operate in an equally beneficial manner in Kentucky, where Democracy had last year a majority of thirty-one thousand? Or is there a gored ox, somewhere?

THE State Republican Convention of Iowa was held on Wednesday, nominations being made for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Judge of Supreme Court, and Superintendent of Public Instruction. The proceedings of the Convention were marked by great harmony, and the resolutions, in the main resembling those of the Ohio platform, were adopted unanimously. Iowa is so overwhelmingly Republican that the result of the campaign does not admit of question. That State has always been proud of its immense majority, and where others have rested content with merely winning the day, Iowa has not been satisfied with less than the utter rout of her opponents, horse, foot and dragoons. The party is now as harmonious and enthusiastic as ever, and there is every probability that it will fully redeem its promise to Ohio, pledging 40,000 majority for its nominees.

GENERAL EDWARD F. NOYES, the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, is a one-legged soldier, in the prime of his manhood, and has a brilliant and enviable record. Entering the army at the beginning of the war, as Major of the 39th Ohio, he participated with credit and distinction in the battles of Iuka and Corinth, afterwards taking part in SHERMAN's advance upon Atlanta, losing his right foot in a desperate charge on Kenesaw Mountain. Returning to his home in Cincinnati, he was by a sort of common consent elected Prosecuting Attorney of Hamilton county, acquitting himself with so much satisfaction to the people that, before his term had expired, he was selected for Probate Judge, the duties of which office he discharged equally well. In whatever position, military or civil, he has been placed, he appears always to have won respect and admiration.

MR. GEORGE H. BUTLER has suddenly become a very distinguished man in his native land. The notoriety which he failed to acquire as a soldier he has easily secured as a diplomatist. He had to go abroad in order to become well known at home. The Rev. Mr. STRANG's certificate of character, indorsed by respectable names, is so strong and unqualified in its statements as to establish the reputation of its subject beyond the possibility of cavil. The author of the letter is well known in this country as a man of veracity, sufficiently careful in forming judgments of people, and sufficiently cautious in expressing them. He is also one of a body of intelligent and conscientious men, whose interests are directly concerned in the relations which they sustain to the representative of their country in Egypt. For many years now they have carried on their educational work in Alexandria, Cairo and other less important Egyptian cities, with a patient and judiciously directed industry which has commanded the admiration and even the patronage of the Pasha and his ministers. From the nature of their occupation and from their object in the country, they live and work constantly in the sight of men. Whatever they do is known. The sharpest eyes in the world, hostile with religious animosity and the antipathy of race, are ever fixed upon them, and yet they are respected. Mr. STRANG's letter concerning BUTLER doubtless contains the testimony of all these men, as such a letter would not have been written by one of them without the knowledge or consent of the rest. The allegations of the letter are doubtless familiar long ago to every foreigner as well as respectable native in lower and middle Egypt. Known to them, the charges were of course long ago known to every Englishman of the thousands who are constantly passing over the Egyptian railway between England and the East Indies. Weeks ago BUTLER's fine doings were undoubtedly the subject of conversation in every bazar in the Levant, and in every gathering of Europeans from Constantinople to Gibraltar. In fact our ambitious compatriot could not have selected a spot on the earth from which his peculiar diplomatic feats would appear so conspicuous as the place he has chosen for his performances. As the great thoroughfare between Europe and Asia, and as the center of European travel, Egypt is the focus of the world's gossip. The most careful administration may make mistakes in its foreign appointments, but such mistakes once detected ought to be promptly rectified, and we confidently trust that General GRANT will not delay in taking the necessary steps to have the charges laid against BUTLER investigated. If the gravest of them are found true, nothing can justify his continuance in the position which he has dishonored. To prevent misapprehension we may say that BUTLER's audacity in presuming to rival his Royal Higness the Prince of Wales in the patronage of Egyptian artists, does not seem to us quite so aggravated an offense as it seems to Mr. STRANG. No doubt, the Consul's conduct in the affair was disreputable. As, however, the offense was not inconsistent with official honor, the charge concerning it rather weakens than strengthens the preceding allegations of official misconduct.

MR. CHASE AND THE DEMOCRATS.

Chief Justice CHASE is again suffering from Presidentphobia. His letter to VALLANDIGHAM, which we published a couple of days ago, complimenting him on his restoration of the Democratic party to its ancient platform of progress and reform, avows his complete acceptance of the new departure, and his hope for its succees. It will, therefore, be impossible hereafter to doubt the position of the Chief Justice, and inasmuch as he has before coquetted with Democracy for the Presidential nomination, it is hardly doing him injustice to consider his late expressions of sympathy and encouragement as a bid for the support of that organization, more especially when his former insatiable longings for that office are taken into account. For it will be remembered that his retirement from the Treasury Department was in consequence of an intrigue against President LINCOLN in the winter of 1863-4, while he was still a member of his cabinet, and that in 1868 he advanced to the very furthest point of concession to the Democracy, to secure the approval of the Tammaney Convention.

It is of course exceedingly improbable that Mr. CHASE will receive the Democratic nomination. His past views upon the questions of reconstruction and negro suffrage, although sufficiently in conformity with the present attitude of one wing of that party, are utterly at variance with the most cherished theories and opinions of nearly the whole body of Southern voters; while if the Northern element should persist in maintaining the propriety and necessity of the step it has already taken, going into Convention on that issue, the probabilities are that it will offset its departure from the old traditions, by conferring the nomination upon some man whose political antecedents and character are acceptable to the South. It is barely possible that for the sake of success, TOOMBS, STEPHENS, and other Southern leaders, may be induced temporarily to acquiesce in the new movement, provided they are allowed to control the nomination, because from the Democratic point of view the platform will be of less importance than the men who stand upon it. That this view is correct is, we think, fully proved by the nominations already made in Ohio and Kentucky, and the declarations of the Democratic press respecting the character of the coming struggle. For instance, the Cincinnati Enquirer states that the great fight is to be, not on the Amendments themselves, but on the construction that is to be put upon them, an assertion to which all its contemporaries respond Amen. So too, while the Kentucky and Ohio platforms acquiesce in the Republican doctrine of common political rights, both LESLIE and McCOOK openly spurn and repudiate the only principle which gives to the new departure whatever force and meaning it possesses. "I opposed the Fifteenth Amendment from the beginning," said the latter, in his speech accepting the nomination. "I was conscious then I was right. I am conscious still." "The procuring of these Amendments was a fraud upon the whole people of these United States," declares the former: "I hold that they ought to be repealed, and the great body of our party is for it." Add to these doctrines and teachings the fact of the immense following of STEPHENS and DAVIS, and it is apparent that although, for strategic reasons, Democracy may professedly surrender its policy, it will never consent to surrender its man. That party proposes hereafter to fight its battles on the line of "unfriendly legislation," to do which it must have a President upon whom it can thoroughly rely. Whatever, therefore, may be the hopes of Mr. CHASE, we think we are safe in predicting that they are doomed to disappointment, for there are flaws in his record which will inevitably cause his rejection. In view of this fact, and of the still more important consideration that the proprieties of his official position peremptorily demand that he should abstain from partisan politics altogether, his incurable penchant for toying and dallying with the Democracy, will necessarily lessen public respect for his character.

THE New York papers, since the absorption of the New Jersey roads by the Pennsylvania Central, are manifesting much alarm in view of the power of Col. THOMAS A. SCOTT, to whom they concede is mainly due the credit of the great consummation—for such it virtually is. A day or two ago we printed what the Tribune had to say on the subject, and now we have the deliverance of the Herald, which paper expresses the opinion that "the power of J. EDGAR THOMSON and THOMAS A. SCOTT, the two magnates of all this railroad combination over the material interests of the country, and over the politics, if they choose, is greater than that of the President of the United States." The Herald admits that VANDERBILT, GOULD, FISK & CO., GARRETT and others are doing their best to keep up in the race, but that, in spite of all they can do, they lag a long way in the rear. These probably are the real facts, as the case now stands, and all that can be done, it would appear, is to inquire what can we do about it? The Herald's reflections are as follows:

"Out of the conflict that is coming on this question the railroad corporations will probably assume a more decided political character than they have heretofore assumed. They have not generally taken sides with one political party or another on purely political questions, except only so far as their own particular material interests have been involved. But whenever the issue comes—whenever a movement shall be made to regulate their operations by government, they will fight as desperately, no doubt, as the old United States Bank did when Jackson touched it. In that event, they will, probably, become allies of the States' rights politicians. It would be their role naturally to oppose the exercise of power by the Federal Government, and to fall back upon the authority of the separate States in all matters of railroad legislation. Considering their immense and growing power this may become at no remote day a most exciting and stubbornly fought issue. The old States' rights party found its strength in the institution of slavery. It would be a curious turn in the political wheel to see a new States' rights party based upon the privileges and interests of the powerful railroad corporations—to see the federal consolidationists arrayed on the side of the people as against vast monopolists and great capitalists, and these monopolists trying to save their power and privileges by holding to the Democratic States' rights doctrine. Yet we think it must come to that, unless the railroads can control the government so far as to prevent the issue being made. Corporations, it has been said, have no souls, and the railroad companies are not likely to stop inflating their stock, consolidating their power and grinding all they can out of the people. As this cannot go on forever, the time must come when an issue will be made, and then will be seen, probably, new political developments and another departure for political parties."

IN New York city, after the first of July, dealers in kerosene are to be licensed by the Commissioners of the Fire Department. As showing the extent of the business in this oil in that city, it is stated that twenty-three dealers in it have been found in one block. Only one of them could afford to take out a license. The competition was so great that some of them adulterated the oil they sold in order to undersell their neighbors, making it both unsafe and comparatively worthless. Nearly one-tenth of all the fires in the city during the past year arose from the use of dangerous kerosene, and if by regulating the trade life and property can be made any safer, there will be reason to rejoice in the innovation.

THE leasing of the New Jersey railroads by the Pennsylvania Central continues to be the subject of discussion. A "Stockholder," in a Philadelphia paper, concludes an earnest protest against the arrangement as follows: "It may, therefore be asserted with entire confidence that the works of the New Jersey companies—now at the lowest estimate worth $40,000,000—will in 1880 be worth $80,000,000. This fact alone of itself should be sufficient to satisfy every intelligent stockholder that it would be a bad bargain to surrender to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for ten per cent. on less than one-fourth what the works of the United Companies will be worth ten years hence."

FOR some time past, on an average of twice a week, the newspaper mail, westward bound, has failed through negligence at Harrisburg. Through the efforts of Postmaster Stewart here the matter was placed in the hands of a special agent of the Postoffice Department, and we are glad to be able to say that a speedy remedy will be applied. Those who have been disposed to visit the dereliction on the Pittsburgh Postoffice should know that, so far from this being the fact, Colonel Stewart has spared no pains to have the mistake remedied.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

At a loss for a word, especially for the right word, is a phrase which describes an embarrassment with which even the practised writer is familiar. People who write only occasionally anticipate the difficulty as one of the chief drawbacks upon the pleasure of composition. Little, Brown & Co., of Boston, have lately issued a book which seems well adapted to meet the difficulty referred to. It is A Dictionary of English Synonymes and Synonymous or Parallel Expressions Designed as a Practical Guide to Aptness and Variety of Phraseology, by Richard Soule. Whenever a doubt arises in regard to the fitness of any word, and a better one is not readily suggested, let the writer turn to the doubtful word in this Dictionary, and the needed substitute will be found. After such examination as we have been able to make of the book, we are able to say honestly that it appears to have been carefully and judiciously compiled. It is more readily consulted than Roget's Thesaurus, and for the single purpose just described may very well take the place of that excellent book. Sold by R. S. Davis & Co., 175 Liberty street.

Few books "published by subscription only" are so soundly and authoritatively recommended as a new work by the Rev. William L. Gage, whose geographical studies and writings have gained for him so worthy a reputation. The book is entitled The Land of Sacred Mystery, or The Bible Read in the Light of its own Scenery; fully illustrated with nearly two hundred and twenty-five Accurate Engravings, on steel and wood, also many careful and authentic maps. In his preface Mr. Gage says that the keynote of the book may be said to be Ritter's great and dominating idea of the sisterhood, or rather twinship of geography and history. The writer's plan is to repeat the Biblical narrative for the purpose of casting upon it the side light of sacred geography. Thoroughly familiar with all the latest results of research regarding the places mentioned or alluded to by the sacred writers, Mr. Gage seems to have carried out the plan very satisfactorily, and the result is a book full of interest and instruction for all who wish to understand the sacred scriptures. It is recommended in the strongest terms by many well known Biblical scholars. The engravings and maps form a valuable feature of the book. Published by Worthington, Dustin & Co., Hartford.

The Harpers are issuing a beautiful series of books designed to interest and instruct young people in natural science. Two volumes of the series prepared by Jacob Abbot, have already appeared, one devoted to the illustration of the subject of light and the other devoted to the illustration of the subject of heat. The books are gotten up in an exceedingly attractive style so far as paper, print, illustrations, &c., can render a volume agreeable to the eye. The narrative form of presenting the subjects may also serve to make the books readable. Jacob Abbot has had much experience as a writer for the young. Whether or not he has succeeded in making the principles of optics and thermotics more intelligible and amusing by the method chosen, will be decided by the success or failure of the volumes among the class for whom they were written. On sale at E. Miner's, Fifth avenue.

A volume lately published by Samuel R. Wells, of New York—consisting of Thoughts for the Young Men of America and Thoughts for the Young Women of America, is chiefly addressed to "those born in poverty and destined to be reared in orphanage." Horace Greeley, Horace Mann, Andrew Jackson Davis, Miss Anna Dickinson, and such philosophers, are the oracles chiefly relied upon by the compiler or author of the book. Amidst much questionable matter the volume contains much wholesome counsel. The book is on sale at Pittock's, opposite the postoffice.

The Institute of Medicine, by Martyn Paine, A.M., M.D. LL.D., professor of the Institutes of Medicine and Materia Medica in the University of New York, and member of a dozen or more scientific societies in Europe, has been issued in the ninth edition. Dr. Martyn Paine is sometimes spoken of as "the great New York physiologist." How much solid merit is implied in the designation or how well he deserves the name we are quite incompetent to say. His book, the Institutes, is evidently a work of immense labor. A very complete idea adds greatly to the value of the volume as a book of reference. Harper & Brothers. E. Miner, Fifth avenue.

The Rev. John Hall, D.D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, in New York City, is not only an eloquent preacher, but a pleasing writer on religious topics. Any person who has never heard him preach, will be at no loss to account for his popularity, after consulting Papers for Home Reading. These papers were originally issued in a religious magazine edited by Mr. Hall, while he was still a pastor in Ireland. The author possesses in a high degree the art of treating serious subjects with vivacity without falling into flippancy or affected smartness. He also knows how to tell a story with tact and with very effective touches of humor. These papers deserve to be very popular, in fact, to find tens of thousands of readers. Dodd & Mead; R. S. Davis & Co., No. 175 Liberty street.

Virginia may not wisely be despaired of; the mother of Presidents has at last produced a cookbook which, we venture to prognosticate, will be found to be good of its kind and worthy of public patronage. We refer to Common Sense in the Household; a Manual of Practical Housewifery by Marion Harland. Marion Harland, if we mistake not, is Miss Mary V. Hawes, a native of Richmond, Virginia, whose novels have been read and admired by many. Of the merits of this book we do not feel qualified to speak, and yet from the sense and spirit disclosed in the introduction or preface, we are sure that the book is a good one. In externals, paper, print and binding it is every thing that such a book ought to be. Chas. Scribner & Co., J. W. Pittock Fifth avenue.

There are certain historical facts supposed to be at the finger-ends of everybody, with which everybody is far from being as well acquainted as everybody is assumed to be. A vast collection of the soil of knowledge referred to is condensed in a little volume, suited to the pocket, lately published by Lee & Shepard, of Boston, and entitled Handbook of the Administrations of the United States; comprising a synopsis of the leading events in American History, from the Inauguration of Washington to the present period. Also, a Record of Contemporaneous English History, by Edward G. Tileston. A valuable feature of the manual is the extracts given from the inaugural and other addresses of the successive Presidents. Statistics of population, lists of the Speakers of the House of Representatives, Chief Justices of the Supreme Court, etc., arranged in the volume, are also worthy of mention. S. A. Clarke & Co., Wood street.

Curiosities of the Law Reporters, compiled by Franklin Fiske Heard, and published by Lee & Shepard, will be found interesting, not only by the professional, but the general readers. Whoever has turned over a book of law reports has noticed, here and there at long intervals, remarks, incidents, statements of facts or principles, surprising by their singularity or their paradoxical character, or from the mere unexpectedness of their appearance in the dry atmosphere of use and wont in which they are met. Apparently an extensive reader of law reports, Mr. Heard conceived the rather happy idea of making a note of those "curiosities" as he came upon them in the pursuits of his stories—and in this little volume we have a great collection of them. As a book to be picked up at odd moments it may be found slightly useful as well as entertaining. S. A. Clark & Co., Wood street.

Dr. William Smith, whose larger scriptural history supplied a generally felt want, has prepared A Scipture History, in three Parts; Old Testament History; Connection of Old and New Testament; New Testament History to A. D. 70. Succinct and exact in statement and chronologically arranged this little book seems equally well suited for use in schools as a text book and for private reading. As it is intended not to supersede the Bible but to be used with it, no attempt is made to repeat in other words those "exquisite stories," to which no uninspired writer is able to do any sort of justice. Harper & Brothers: E. Miner, Fifth avenue.

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences, edited by Isaac Hays, M. D., is full of interesting matter. One cannot see how any medical man can afford to do without it. Published by H. C. Lea, Philadelphia.

In Hunt's Merchant's Magazine Year Book for 1871, the reader will find a vast collection of statistical and other information valuable to merchants, politicians and business men in general. Chapter first contains a financial review of the year 1870; chapter second gives the debt and finances of each State; chapter third treats of the subject of banking; chapter fourth is devoted to railroads and telegraphs; chapter fifth to population of America and Europe; chapter sixth is devoted to trade and commerce; chapter seventh to cotton; chapter eighth contains commercial reports; chapter ninth acts of Congress; and chapter tenth and last is biographies. Published by Wm. B. Dana, New York.

Mr. Greeley always writes with so distinct a purpose and with so much earnestness that, whatever may be his subject, he is certain to have readers. His little book—What I Know of Farming—has sometimes been treated with gross injustice. It is an exceedingly modest book, the work of a man who has no illusions as to the extent or value of his own knowledge. He confesses that his scientific attainments are so slight as hardly to amount to a smattering, while he entertains no exaggerated notion concerning the worth of his experience as a practical farmer. But well understanding the "enlightened age and conceited generation" in which he lives, he well knows that the people need urging to acquire needful knowledge. He knows that in every section of the country there are hundreds of farmers who are willing to read whatever he writes, even on the subject of farming, and who would not likely pay any other writer on the subject the same compliment. He also knows that tens of thousands of them, farmers themselves, are so ignorant of their art as greatly to need such instruction as he knows himself capable of imparting. In fact no one of Mr. Greeley's manifold labors has been more manifestly the product of benevolence than this little book, and in the way of direct teaching, in the way of warning against mistakes by the confessions of the authors of blunders, and in the way of exhortation to seek knowledge from other sources, What I Know of Farming, seems likely to prove one of the most useful labors of the Tribune philosopher's most useful life. G. W. Carlton & Co; J. W. Pittock, opposite postoffice.

The Life and Times of Henry Lord Brougham, Written by Himself, though not as interesting as it might have been, is still interesting. The author put off beginning to write his memoirs until he was so old that his memory had begun to fail. Besides, his lordship's style of narration was never remarkable for vivacity, even when he was in his prime, and age did not supply what was lacking in youth and early manhood. The chapters relating to the author's early life in Edinburgh are heavy and dull, owing what interest they possess to the great fame of the subject. But a considerable portion of this first volume is made up of extracts from journals, and of letters. The record made at the time of a tour in Denmark and Scandinavia when Brougham was in his twenty-second year, contains many interesting statements. As much may be justly said of the tour in Holland and Italy, which Brougham made a little later in the character of an American, in the narrative of his mission to Portugal, and in the memoranda touching the Peninsular war the reader gets valuable glimpses into English history. Then almost every page of the volume throws some light on the character of the wonderful man who, in spite of his blunders and failures, exerted a permanent, and on the whole, beneficent influence upon the history of his times. Harper & Brothers. E. Miner, Fifth avenue.

The health of Bishop Simpson is so precarious as to excite grave apprehensions on the part of his friends.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

A singular case of cerebral affection has occurred at Somerville, Mass. A lad named Dickenson suddenly disappeared from his home, but returned two days after in an exhausted condition. He stated that after indulging in vigorous play with the other boys, and while his body was heated, he went into the water to swim. The next day he went to school, feeling ill, and remembered nothing more until he found himself in Manchester, N. H. When his senses had returned he started homeward, and walked all the way. His shoes and stockings were worn out. He is now in a serious condition from fatigue and fever. The danger of bathing when heated should induce great caution.

In the London dog-show this year is exhibited a mastiff of a breed reputed to be the purest and oldest of ascertained pedigree in England. It is descended from ancestry said to have been in the possession of Sir Percy Leigh—from whom the ancient family, still seated in Cheshire, Leigh of Lyme, is descended—who in 1415 was saved, when lying apparently dead on the field of battle at Agincourt, by his mastiff; $5,000 was the price put upon this beast of noble lineage. Amongst other interesting animals is Lady Emily Peel's (wife of Mr. Robert, and sister of the Duchess of Wellington) Russian dog, whose parents were presented to her by the Czar; a magnificent Cuban mastiff, bearing the scars received in a bear fight, and a live toy terrier, so precious that he was exhibited under a glass case.

At Moscow, Russia, a project has been broached for celebrating next year the two hundredth anniversary of Peter the Great's birth by a grand national musical festival, to be divided into two principal parts. It is proposed that the first part shall consist of a competition between Russian composers and the performance of occasional pieces, or pieces written expressly for the occasion. The second part will be a kind of musico-ethnographic exposition, at which the different races belonging to the Russian empire will execute in their respective national costumes pieces of popular music, vocal and instrumental. The government has signified its intention of contributing one hundred thousand roubles toward the enterprise.

A Paris photographer has turned his forced leisure (during the siege) to account by getting up a sort of rogues' gallery of the members of the Paris Commune. The collection has been sent to the chiefs of police throughout France, with a detailed signalement of the illustrious subjects. Little did the chiefs of the insurrection think, when they sat for their portraits to be transmitted to posterity, that they would be devoted to such base uses as the gratification of the curiosity of vulgar thief-catchers. After all, political glory, like other distinctions, is relative. The memory of the originals of these portraits will always be sure of preserving a place in the Pantheon of celebrities, though the classification may not be exactly what they aspired to.

A singular freak of lightning occurred at Newburyport, Mass., last week. A lady while walking out during a thunder storm felt a shock of electricity which momentarily numbed her, but, recovering almost instantly, she continued her walk home. On arriving there she found that the lightning had actually struck a fold of her black alpaca dress, near the ground, where it was wet by the shower, and had scorched the edge of the fold and then leaped off to the wet ground. The burned piece of the dress was cut out and preserved as a curiosity. The electric fluid burned a streak about eight inches in length, and on its edges the peculiar zigzag course of the flash was as clearly defined—burned into the fabric—as seen painted on a black cloud in a thunder storm. The surrounding cloth having been dry at the time of the occurrence, and consequently a non-conductor, was unharmed.

An instrument has been invented that marks "the ebb of time," showing how many minutes there are prior to any event. If placed in the postoffice it reads: "Mails open in thirty minutes;" one minute later it reads, "in twenty-nine minutes," then in twenty-eight, and so on. At a railway station it reads: "This train leaves in ten minutes," then to nine, etc., and when the index reaches 0 the train starts. Thus, any passenger, on entering a station, knows just how much time he has for getting tickets, checks, a newspaper, and a seat, without consulting a watch or a clock to ascertain the hour of the day.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. D. Lander recently played a very successful engagement at the California Theater in San Francisco, the receipts for eighteen nights aggregating $19,800, of which Mrs. L.'s share was $5,600.

It is said that "Boucicault opened with a dramatic season in Exeter, England, last month, and on the third night found one man in the auditorium at the hour for the curtain to rise. Boucicault viewed him critically, and decided that he could scarcely be called a large and enthusiastic audience, and sent him out one by one. This extraordinary run of patronage run Boucicault out of town."

Rev. Robert Collyer, of Chicago, has made a sensation in London. A correspondent writes that the occasion of Rev Mr. C.'s first sermon in that city was the anniversary of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, and the fame of the preacher brought together a crowded assembly. Mr. Collyer's style of address was new to nearly every one present. His accent, his peculiar emphasis, his freedom from conventionality, and his dramatic power created a lively sensation. I heard many say afterwards that he was the most striking pulpit orator they had ever heard. He enchained the attention from first to last.

The Crop Prospects in Ohio.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: Wheat is being rapidly harvested, and a full average crop of excellent quality is being secured. Oats, which, owing to the dry weather in April and the first part of May, looked bad, have improved, and now promise a good yield. Hay was cut short by the drought, but the rains are producing a second growth that will go far, in the shape of excellent pastures, towards making up for the deficiency. Barley is turning out well. Fruit, notwithstanding the untimely frost, is proving moderately plenty. Corn, which is the great crop of this section, promises a large yield. It was planted early and largely, and has made such fine progress that an extraordinary crop is anticipated.

The Universal Safeguard.

It is useless for State Legislatures to pass laws for the preservation of the public health, if the great law of self-preservation, which depends for its enforcement upon the will of the individual, is suffered to remain a dead letter.

There is scarcely an adult member of the community of either sex, in the country, who has not seen the testimony in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, furnished over their own signatures by persons of acknowledged eminence in science, literature, art, commerce, and every department of business and professional life. These witnesses have declared in the most explicit terms that the preparation is a safeguard against epidemics, a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia, a valuable antibilious medicine, a promoter of appetite, a genial and harmless stimulant, a good acclimating medicine, a strengthener of the nerves, a general invigorant, a protection against the deleterious effects of malaria and impure water, and that it imparts a degree of vigor and activity to the vital forces which is not communicated by any other of the tonics and stomachics in use. Under these circumstances the self-preservative law of nature should teach every rational person who, either by reason of inherent debility, or in consequence of exposure to unwholesome influences, is in peril of losing the greatest of all temporal blessings, health, the importance of using the Bitters as a defensive medicine. Dyspeptics who neglect to give it a trial are simply their own enemies. It is guaranteed to cure indigestion, in all its forms, and the billious and nervous will find nothing in the whole range of officinal and proprietary medicines which will afford them the same relief.

FINANCE AND TRADE

THURSDAY EVENING, June 22, 1871.

The local money market is without any material change in its general features. The easy condition which we reported in our previous remarks continues. Currency is plenty and deposits are increasing.

—Local stocks were very quiet to-day. We heard of a transaction in Allegheny Valley 7-30 bonds at about 95¾. The advance price of these bonds is barely sustained.

—Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co. report the following quotations of Government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cooke & Co., their correspondents:

	Morning.	Clos'g.
U. S. Bonds of 1881	117⅜	117⅜
U. S. Bonds of 1862	112⅜	112⅜

10-40s	110⅜	110⅜

—James T. Brady & Co., corner of Fourth avenue and Wood street, quote United States securities in New York Saturday as follows:

—A special telegram from New York says: The excitement at the Stock Exchange yesterday fully equaled that of the famous Black Friday. About the first of April a combination was formed to force up the price of Rock Island stock, and get a corner on the bears. The principal men in the clique were William S. Woodward and John F. Track, President of the railroad. Starting from the price of 112, they gradually bought up the Rock Island stock till yesterday morning it sold at 130. The capital stock of the Company amounts to $17,000,000, or 170,000 shares of one hundred dollars each. On Tuesday afternoon Woodward had all the arrangements completed for making an enormous sum of money. He and his clique had actually bought 273,000 shares, 10,300 more than have ever been issued, and all the gold-sight dealers who have sold short would have been at their mercy, and would have been compelled to submit to any terms they chose to the offer. But there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and lip, as Woodward found to his cost. All day Tuesday he had taken every share that was offered, and towards the afternoon he became a little suspicious of the sellers. He was under an engagement to put up a large amount of margin. Yesterday morning the clique were to furnish him with a million dollars to pay his margin. On Tuesday evening, in company with his brokers, Scott & Strong, he visited some of the leaders of the clique where he found to his horror and amazement that the one million dollars would not be forthcoming. In the morning so little was this result anticipated that at the opening of the exchange yesterday morning the Rock Island stock was quoted at 130¾. As soon as the trouble was known, indescribable confusion ensued, and inevitable ruin stared dozens of men in the face, and many others had to contemplate heavy losses and get out of the mess as best they could. Shouting, yelling and running about was more characteristic of lunatics than of staid business men. Soon after the Board was closed, several members officially informed the Vice President they must fail, and desired that their stock might be sold out under this rule. About three millions of stock was sold in this way, lowering the market price from 130¾ to 110 in less than two hours. Nine of the dealers, exclusive of Woodward, were publicly announced as failed. Woodward will undoubtedly fail, in fact he has virtually failed, for one of the firms already declared as failed informed the Vice President that they were unable to fulfill their engagements in consequence of this default. Scott & Strong, Woodward's brokers, are not affected by the catastrophe.

—The following table, made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway Stocks, Gold, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Stock Exchange during the day:

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
THURSDAY, June 22, 1871.

REMARKS—In view of the unchanged state of the market we omit our usual extended quotations. Since our last report there have been no changes worthy of note, if we except in the prices of dry goods, lumber, copper, leather, drugs and chemicals. Flour is not so firm, and prices tending lower. A prominent and wealthy farmer of this county informed us to-day that he and his neighbors would, on Monday next, "let loose the reapers" in their wheat fields, and that the crops would be unusually heavy. Such is the news all over the State and county. Why then should flour go up in price? Nay, should it not rather come down? A few weeks of fair weather will settle the question. The vegetable and fruit markets are abundantly supplied.

FRIDAY, June 23, 1871.

REMARKS—The market yesterday was a quiet one, dealers being again apart in their views, the differences will necessarily have to be adjusted before sales to any extent can be effected. The market looks favorable to purchasers, who don't seem at all anxious to invest at present prices.

CRUDE.

The following are the nominal rates: Spot or June, 13¼c; all year S. O., 12¾c; B. O. all year 13⅜c. From these quotations holders are not disposed to give way, and when they make up their mind they as a general thing stick to it.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
WEDNESDAY, June 21, 1871.

Below will be found our report of the proceedings and state of the East Liberty market for the week ending this evening, June 21.

Cattle.

In winding up our report for last week we noted that the market was good, with prices from ⅛ to ¼c better than those of the preceding week; also, that the run was light and the New York buyers purchasing freely, and that the prospect for the balance of the week was good. Such proved to be the case. The arrivals were heavy on Thursday, but consisted principally of through cattle which not being offered here did not have any effect on prices, which continued steady until the close. The quality of the stock was, and the prices obtained were, as above stated, better ¼c, and the market closed firm at the advance. This week the arrivals were heavy on Sunday and Monday, but not many cattle were sold except at retail, of which there was probably 300 head of fair killing steers disposed of to the butchers at prices much better than could have been obtained any time since. On Tuesday the arrivals were heavy, and were very good, consisting principally of prime heavy shipping cattle. The number of buyers that had arrived at the yards by this time was larger than the number usually here. After looking around and seeing large the number on sale thus early in the week, and well knowing that no difficulty would be experienced in getting a sufficient supply, they became indifferent and seemingly did not care whether any purchases were made or not. Under these circumstances sellers, in order to prevent a glut and avoid ruinous prices, are compelled to make some concessions, and although good markers were experienced in the East, yet they lowered prices fully ¼c from quotations of last week. This morning an additional number of buyers put in an appearance, and at present there is more here than have been for a long time. The market to-day was not what could be termed an active one, considering the number of cattle on sale, and although a good many were sold the sales were rather hard to effect, and the general tone and feeling of the market downwards. This afternoon prices are about ¼c lower than last week. Quite a number of cattle were sold to-day which will be taken to Allegheny for the retail market. The yards are still full, and the probability is that a good many will be shipped through on first account. The following are the rates current to-day: Extra, 1,200 to 1,500 steer, $6 00@6 10; good to prime, 1,100 to 1,200 lbs, $5 50@5 75; common to medium, 1,000 to 1,100 lbs, $5 25@5 35; bulls, stags and cows, 800 to 1,500 lbs, $3 50@4 25; stock steers, $4 00@4 50.

Hogs.

In closing last week's report we remarked that, owing to rather late arrivals, and a fair demand, the tone of the market was increasing in firmness and prices a shade better than the previous day, the best Phil. hogs selling at $4 50, and very little difference between that class and Yorkers. On Thursday the arrivals were light, and prices advanced to about $4 75 for best, and selling about as fast as they would arrive. About the same state of affairs prevailed on Friday, the tone of the market firm and prices 30 cents better than during the early part of the week, the best selling readily for $4 80. On Saturday the arrivals were light, the quality good and market brisk at the advance. Everything in the shape of a hog was sold on Saturday, and the pens empty. The advance in prices having reached the west, the consequence was that a large number of hogs were started for the market and the arrivals to this time have been heavy. Under this influence the market was overstocked and prices declined to $4 60 on Monday, on Tuesday to $4 50 and to-day another drop of 10c, the best selling at about $4 40. The feeling is dull and downward, with the supply exceeding the demand. The following are the rates current to-day: Extra Philadelphia, $4 40; good to prime Philadelphia, $4 25@4 35; good to prime New York $4 20@4 25.

Sheep.

At the close of last week's report the market was fairly active, and the prices fully as good as those of the previous week. On Thursday the arrivals were light, and under a fair demand the tone of the market was firm, and so continued to the end of the week. This week the arrivals have been generally of a good quality. The number of buyers in attendance is about as large as usual, and they are buying quite liberally.

STOCKS.

The disastrous break in Rock Island yesterday has left affairs at the stock exchange in a very unsettled condition. More of this stock was sold out this morning under the rule; about 50,000 shares in all have been sold in this way. The stock market opened feverish and excited, with large transactions. The "Bears" sold largely, and a sharp decline in prices occurred, but New York and Lake Shore, Western Union, Ohios and Union Pacific recovered the moment the "Bears" stopped offering them down. Short interest is heavy. The market closed strong with a better feeling.

Mr. Woodward was interviewed to-day and said that the ring really held but sixty thousand shares, while he, at his own individual risk, held the remaining two hundred thousand, but the entire amount was under his control, and that he had 50,000 more shares to his credit than were in the market. He had been promised a loan of a certain amount of money yesterday morning, and counting on that had bought heavily on the preceding day. The money was not forthcoming and therefore he failed. This was the cause of the entire panic. As to who were the other gentlemen interested in the pool Mr. Woodward declined to give any information. As to the extent of the failure he said it might amount to twenty millions, but no definite idea of the situation could yet be given.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, June 22. Dry goods—Business generally is inert among the dry goods trade, yet prices are held with increased firmness. Owing to the light stock offering and extreme prices prevalent for raw materials, we have to quote another advance in the price of Indian Orchard unbleached cottons, as follows: 40-inch wide up to 14c; BB 11½c; W 10½c, and Hollowell Q bleached muslins 12½c. In other descriptions there is no important change to note, but the market, though quiet, is

...will occupy a position in the center of the boat, and work the wheels with his feet, by means of an apparatus attached to the shaft.

THE United States Mail packets leave daily at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. for Brownsville and Geneva. The boats have the best of accommodations and are in charge of careful and obliging officers.

MEMPHIS, June 20.—The steamer Natchez arrived here at six o'clock this morning, making the run from New Orleans to this port in two days, thirteen hours and seven minutes, including twenty-eight landings. She left here at 8:15.

THE Louisville Commercial of Wednesday says: Sam Smith, of the steamer Natchez, arrived here from Cairo yesterday with an amputated hand. While engaged in chopping meat with a cleaver on that boat, last Sunday, he made a miss-stroke and cut his hand off just below the wrist.

THE WHARFAGE QUESTION.—It may be proper to state that the new ordinance reducing the wharfage one-third went into effect on the first of February, and as a matter of course the same amount of business would show one-third less receipts.

THE towboat Ajax has 28-inch cylinders, 9 feet stroke. We wonder how that will meet the views of the St. Louis underwriters that considered 10 inch cylinders 7 feet stroke the outside figures for a towboat.

OFFICIAL SURVEY OF THE OHIO RIVER FROM PITTSBURGH TO CAIRO.—At the request of our river friends we have published a third edition of this important table, with various improvements. It can be obtained at the COMMERCIAL office at ten cents per copy, or three copies for twenty-five cents.

COLLAMB & Co., of New Orleans, are the owners of the bar of the Katie. They paid for it $27,000, securing it for all the lifetime of the boat. We believe that is the largest amount ever paid for the bar of a steamer, and it is quite improbable that so much will ever again be paid for a steamboat bar.

LOUISVILLE.—Wednesday's Courier-Journal says: The Baltic arrived from Cincinnati, flying light, and returned with an empty tow.

The C. T. Dumont's machinery will be placed in the new steamer contemplated by the United States Mail Line.

The Rover came in from Cincinnati yesterday, and returned with four barges of iron ore left here on her last trip.

The Belle Vernon, from Cincinnati to New Orleans, passed through the canal yesterday with the barge Red Stockings in tow.

O'Neal & Co., coal merchants of this city, recently brought suit against W. A. Murphy & Co., in the Common Pleas Court, for a barge of coal supposed to have been sunk one night last winter by the ice. On Saturday last the case was disposed of, the Court rendering a verdict in favor of defendants. Since the decision of the Court O'Neal & Co. have made diligent search in the vicinity where the barge is said to have sunk, but no traces of it can be found. The question arises, if the barge was not sunk, where can it be?

MOUNTAIN COMMERCE OF THE MISSOURI.—For three years past St. Louis merchants have had little use for tonnage plying on the Missouri above Omaha and Sioux City—in other words, mountain steamers. This is owing to the fact that railroads were completed and came into direct competition with the boats, and that Chicago has supplied much of the merchandise supplied by the Territories.

In 1868 fifteen side-wheel and forty-nine stern-wheel boats left that port engaged in the mountain trade, all but twenty-nine of them bound for Fort Benton, about the head of navigation on the Missouri. Seven stern-wheelers were totally lost on the voyage by sinking. They were light built vessels, and would not now pass inspection for the Missouri.

In 1869 thirty-one side-wheel and stern-wheel steamers left that port for the Upper Missouri—all but two for Benton.

In 1870 the business had suffered a marked decline. Only eight boats left this port engaged in the trade which employed sixty-four in 1868.

Fourteen steamers have left St. Louis this year, and it is not likely that any more will leave for Benton and other points beyond Iowa and Nebraska.

Not mentioned above are steamers Ida Rees and Miner, which were not here this year, and begin their season's work at Sioux City. The Viola Belle is the only sidewheel boat in the list. A sufficient proof that sternwheelers are cheap running boats, and well adapted to the navigation of the Missouri; although but a few years ago—say ten—a man who would predict such an invasion of the Missouri by sternwheel boats would have been considered weak-minded. Some of these boats are owned by Leavenworth, Kansas, parties; most of them, however, are owned here and in Pittsburgh. The heavy shipments by government contractors called them out, the amount of freight going on them in the regular line of commerce being quite limited. Many of them started from this port empty, as their cargoes and passengers were to be taken on at Leavenworth, St. Joseph, Omaha, Sioux City, &c. In short, Sioux City seems to have become a more important shipping point by river to Benton, &c., than St. Louis is.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last), is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul and Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT. Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by First and only Mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS. Northern Pacific 7-30s are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at the lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUND. The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES. The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit, and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES. All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

THE

New Orleans, Mobile and Texas

RAILROAD COMPANY

Are building a Trunk Line, connecting New Orleans with Mobile on the east, and giving

THE ONLY RAILROAD CONNECTION

Between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas on the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles constituting the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

Upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine river. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by indorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million of dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

To the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

To an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent. currency in New York, or 7 per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No Better Security has been Offered

To investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser MORE THAN SEVENTY-SEVEN PER CENT. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payments in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. AN 8 PER CENT. CURRENCY BOND AT 90 WILL GIVE A RETURN OF $2,614 18 MORE THAN A 7 PER CENT. GOLD BOND, AT THE SAME PRICE, OR NEARLY THREE TIMES THE AMOUNT OF THE ORIGINAL INVESTMENT.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1 to date of remittance.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by Messrs. S. McCLEAN & CO., Bankers.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents,

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

HAS ACQUIRED A WORLD-WIDE FAME.

All of my preparations are meritorious. A period of twenty years has PROVED THIS to be the case.

See remarks made by Benjamin Traver, F. R. C. S. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic, with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

See REMARKS of the GREAT CHEMISTS AND PILL MEN OF AMERICA.

WM. R. WARNER & CO.,
154 North Third street, Philadelphia, Penn.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Esteemed Friend: I congratulate you on having the handsomest and at the same time the MOST EFFECTIVE PILL that I have ever known for the purpose intended.

WM. R. WARNER & CO.

H. T. Helmbold

Will remark, in conclusion, that his remedies are the result of long and careful study. The Fluid Extracts have been before the public twenty years; the sale of them in that time proves their value. All have been benefited by them who followed my instructions, and to-day they stand UNEQUALED in the extent of their sale and UNSURPASSED by any Mendicant in the Dispensatory of the United States, not excepting a single HERB, ROOT, PLANT, or scientific preparation.

Pharmaceutical I claim all mime to be and have never patented a single one.

All Stand on Their Merits.

The Pill I have thought of offering to the afflicted for ten years.

They are now perfect, and I shall now stake my time money and fame on their effectiveness. The inviting style in which the pill itself is made, the bottle, label, wrapper—all show with what care they have been prepared. After examination, no English or French preparation will show greater care, and I am really proud of them.

Instead of the nauseous looking, carelessly prepared Pills vended generally and put up in wooden boxes, and made generally or offered by those having no experience as physicians, druggists, or manufacturers of medicines, test the medicine made by your obedient servant,

THE ROCK ISLAND PANIC.

History of the Pool—Millions Lost and Won—How Slippery Brokers Swindle the Public—The Board of Brokers Urged to Sift the Matter to the Bottom.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Tribune to-morrow will have the following in reference to the Rock Island panic: The general drift of comments upon the Rock Island affair was violently denunciatory of the principals concerned in it. Woodward was alleged to have deliberately plundered the street of from five hundred to thousand a million dollars, and in doing so to have remorselessly broken down a dozen or more smaller firms dependent upon him. He was pronounced a confidence man of the first magnitude. The basis of these allegations is the old story, that while employing one set of brokers to run up stocks to prices which, as when Speyer was bidding 160 for gold on Black Friday, were never intended to be paid, other brokers were rapidly selling for the clique to bona fide buyers, making it actually a game of "heads I win, tails you lose." The pool paid out nothing, but received large sums in the possession of which members of it failed. An incidental of the affair was developed yesterday, which seems to illustrate very fully the tactics of the pool. A broker had borrowed five hundred shares of Rock Island stock from one of Woodward's men, and on Tuesday afternoon was peremptorily requested to deposit a large amount of money to meet a fictitious rise in the price caused by the pool. He sold the stock at an early hour Wednesday, and then demanded the return of the amount put up as a margin, but was told "We have failed." He brought suit, and yesterday a Sheriff's officer went to the Safe Deposit's vaults under the Stock Exchange building to sieze the contents of the box owned by the failed broker, but the box was found to be empty. The victim then attached the bank account of the slipping broker, congratulating himself meanwhile that he was first in the field and had still a fair prospect of recovering the amount of which, as he claimed, he had been robbed. Many similar cases are presumed to have occurred growing out of the "pool" system of buying on credit and exacting cash on sales. Though such talk has never heretofore amounted to anything, it now appears to be quite seriously proposed to make a thorough investigation into the late "corner," and hold to a strict account those found to have been concerned. The swindler Woodworth is said to have failed under similar circumstances four times during the last five or six years, but says if the money market had happened to be tight this time, the crash would have swept half of Wall street. It must be made actionable to play games of this sort, and the board of brokers must sift this affair to the bottom.

ANOTHER MINE ACCIDENT.

Forty Men Imprisoned in a Mine by the Caving in of the Earth—All Rescued—Two Persons Injured by an Explosion of Fire Damp.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 22.—Some forty miners were temporarily imprisoned in the earth yesterday, by the caving in of a slope at the Empire mine, several miles from this place. All were rescued and are expected to recover from the effects of foul air inhaled during their confinement.

David Jenkins and John Dener were severely burned by an explosion of damp in the Wilkesbarre Coal and Iron Company's mine, at Ashley, yesterday. The former is not expected to recover.

PHILADELPPIA.

Explosion of the City Gas Works—The Atlantic Oil Refinery Burns—150,000 Barrels of Oil on the Premises.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—A fire is now raging at the Atlantic coal oil refinery at Point Breeze, south of the city near League Island. The fire was caused by the explosion of the city gas works, setting fire to the Atlantic coal oil works, which are now burning terribly. It is said there are 150,000 barrels of oil on the premises, all of which will be consumed.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 22, 1871.

THE YACHT REGATTA—NO DECISION GIVEN.

The annual regatta of the New York Yacht Club came off to-day. The start was made from the stake boat off Clifton, Staten Island, at 11 A. M. The sloop Kaiser Wilhelm led the fleet through the Narrows, followed by the sloops Viking, Coming and Peerless, the schooners Tidal Wave, Fleetwing, Palmer, Alice, Magic and others. The wind held from the southeast, with an ebb tide, southwest by the Spit and here half of the fleet rounded one of the can buoys recently placed instead of the southwest spit buoy. Rounding the lightship, six miles south of Sandy Hook, the Dauntless fouled the Madeline, carrying away her foretopmast and light sails. The wind then hauled to the southward, and all started sheets home. On the homestretch against ebb tide the wind calmed down, the smallest vessels going ahead and the schooners losing distance. The first vessel home was the schooner Tidal Wave; start 11:20; return over the forty-two miles course, clock time, 6h., 19 sec.; Columbia, 6:01:52; Palmer, 6:27:42; sloops, Addie 6:29; Peerless 6:31:50; Gracie 6:43:46, and Coming, 6:49:28. As half the fleet rounded the wrong buoy the judges declined to make a decision until all protests are received. If the sailing directions are adhered to, the sloop Coming takes the subscription cup, and the schooner Idler the club, Bennett and subscription cups. If the buoy at the southwest spit, turned in error by half the fleet is allowed, the schooner Tidal Wave takes the three schooner prizes, and the sloop prizes lay between Addie and Viking. Decisions will be made to-morrow.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis of Observations by the United States Signal Corps for the Past Twenty-four Hours—Probabilities.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22, 7:30 P. M.

Synopsis for the past twenty-four hours: The barometer has very generally fallen in the Mississippi valley. It rose on the Atlantic coast during the night, but is now again falling, and especially so from the lower lakes to the middle Atlantic. The temperature has risen somewhat from the Ohio valley north and westward. Southeasterly winds have today prevailed on the Middle Atlantic, and light winds in the Southern States and on the lakes. The threatening weather with light rains experienced Wednesday evening from Lake Erie to Minnesota is now followed by partially cloudy weather, with rain at Chicago only. The cloudy and threatening weather is increasing in the Middle States. Local rains during the night passed over North Carolina.

PROBABILITIES.

Threatening weather with occasional light rain is probable to-night in Pennsylvania and Virginia, and to some extent on Friday in the Eastern States. The conditions are favorable for severe local storms from Arkansas to Ohio. No extensive disturbance is probable on Friday for our coast.

The market opened quiet but strong, with a slight disposition on the part of holders to demand a further slight advance, but in this effort they met with no success. Sales were not, however, urged to any extent, buyers not appearing at all anxious. In the afternoon all offers to buy seemed to be withdrawn, and the market was perceptibly weaker. On the upper road as high as $4 70 was paid for spot, but the market closed dull and drooping at $4 55. On the lower road $5 00 was steadily demanded, but buyers were scarce. At Oil City there was very little done. The market closed dull and weaker.

At St. Louis, yesterday was the hottest day of the season, the mercury rising to 96 at 3 P. M.

The steamship Nevada, from San Francisco, reached Auckland, New Zealand, May 14th, four hours ahead of schedule time. Two thousand persons welcomed her at the wharf. A banquet to her officers was given in the evening.

The strikers in the mines of Amador county, California, have compelled the suspension of all work, not even allowing the working of the pumps to free the mines from water. The local authorities refusing to act against the mob, the First Regiment of National Guards, Colonel W. H. L. Barris, of San Francisco, were ordered to proceed to the scene of the disturbance last night. They are provided with heavy rifles, and are instructed to disperse the mob at all hazards.

The great work undertaken by the city of Chicago some three years since of deepening the summit level of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, so that the waters of Lake Michigan might find an outlet to the Illinois and thence to the Mississippi and the Gulf, is nearly completed, and the pure water of the lake will soon displace the foul contents of Chicago river. Yesterday at 11:30 o'clock the workmen commenced removing the massive stone blocks which cap the walls of the lock at Bridgeport and on Saturday night, the 24th, the water will be drawn off the canal. Dams will be put in above and below the lock, and the north side of the structure will be entirely removed and the channel widened to about forty feet. While this is being done, the lock and the lower end of the level will also be removed and all obstructions to navigation taken out. The contractors are very sanguine in the belief that this work will be completed and navigation resumed on the lake level by the Fourth of July.

The West India Steamship Company's steamer Tagus, from Southampton, arrived at Kingston, Jamaica, yesterday, with her machinery damaged. She will be obliged to remain six weeks in order to repair damages.

Improvement Trust Company.

A meeting of citizens interested in the organization of this company was held last evening at the Board of Trade rooms. Josiah Reamer, Esq., presided, and Mr. J. H. Miller acted as Secretary. The Chairman stated the object of the meeting, after which the Secretary read quite a lengthy description of the company, its charter, its objects, plans, &c. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Henry M. Long, John H. Kerr, J. E. McKelvy and George T. Oliver. The books of subscription were opened, and a large amount of stock taken. The meeting was large, and much interest in the matter was shown. The company starts with flattering prospects, and we are sure that under the management of the present Board it is bound to succeed, and become a useful, beneficial institution. We advise all of our readers to call at the office of the Company, No. 75 Fourth avenue, and examine the very liberal charter which has been granted by the Legislature. It is a significant fact that the stockholders so far are principally workingmen and mechanics, and it is this class of persons who are to be benefitted by it, and who are solicited to take stock. We wish the new Company success and expect to see it attained. "A penny saved is a penny earned."

DEPUTY MAYOR NICHOLS yesterday took an information from William Ashe against Edward McCable for the larceny of a fifty dollar note, and six dollars in small bills. McCable was on intimate terms with Mr. Ashe and frequently visited his house on Thirty-third street. Yesterday he was at his house, and after he left Ashe missed the money and suspecting McCable of the theft preferred the charge of larceny. McCable was arrested, when all the money with the exception of one dollar was found in his possession. Ashe, congratulating himself on the recovery of the money, and having been for many years on intimate terms with the accused withdrew the charge.

WE learn by a telegraphic dispatch from Memphis that James Peterson, formerly of this city, and one of the largest coal dealers in the South, died suddenly yesterday morning, on board the steamer W. S. Pike, near New Orleans. His death was caused by heart disease.

PATENT VULCANITE ROOFING.—Pliable, water and fire proof; more durable than iron or tin, and suitable for any style of roof. The cheapest and best in the market. Samples, terms, &c., at office, No. 98 Water street.

MICHAEL MURPHY was arrested by officer Fowler. Michael had a carpet sack filled with notions and jewelry in his possession, and as he could give no satisfactory account of how the articles came in his possession, it is presumed he stole them.

ROUGH SKIN made smooth by using Juniper Tar Soap, manufactured by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. F

DUQUESNE SAVINGS BANK—No. 54 Fourth avenue, offers the highest rate of interest on large and small deposits, and invests in first mortgages only. tf

Frightful Accident.

Last evening between six and seven o'clock, a terrible accident occurred near the arsenal, which may result fatally. Two men were engaged alternately in cutting down a tree, when the axe slipped from the handle, and the sharp edge struck one of the men across the face horizontally, about half an inch below the eyes. The wound is quite a deep one, and the unfortunate man was greatly weakened from loss of blood. He was removed to his home near by, and Dr. Clark summoned, who dressed the injuries. By request of the family of the unfortunate man, and the party assisting him in cutting down the tree, we withhold names.

ALLEGHENY.

Sudden Death of a Well Known Citizen.

Mr. Joseph P. Estep, a well known citizen of this city, died suddenly yesterday morning at his residence on Liberty street. He had risen at an early hour in the morning, leaving his wife asleep. When she awoke and found him absent she at first felt no alarm, but as he did not return to the room, she hastily dressed herself and proceeded to look for him, as she could not hear any person moving about the house. She went into several rooms, and finally proceeded to the bath room. When she opened the door she saw him lying near the bath tub, and on approaching was horrified to discover that he was dead. She immediately roused the members of the family, and a physician was hastily summoned, but death had evidently ensued some time previous. Mr. E. was in usual health the previous night, and the shock of his sudden death was terrible to his wife and family, as the announcement of the sad fact will be to the large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The deceased was a widely known and highly esteemed citizen, and for many years past has been one of the members of the firm of Phelps, Parke & Co., wagon and carriage manufacturers. He was a consistent christian gentleman, and his death will cause sicere sorrow, not only among his immediate friends, but among the numerous business and other acquaintances.

Runaway Accident.

Stewart Robertson, of the firm of Ralya & Robertson, met with a severe accident about two o'clock yesterday afternoon. At the time of the accident he was driving down Cedar avenue, and when he reached First street his horse stood on a nail, the nail entering the foot of the animal its entire length. Mr. Robertson then secured the services of a blacksmith, and while the nail was being taken out the horse ran off. Mr. Robertson, who had hold of the reins, was dragged along the avenue some distance. He received a severe wound on his head, and a number of bruises on his body. He was removed to his home on West street, and medical aid summoned. The horse was caught soon after. The buggy was badly used up.

ABOUT five o'clock yesterday morning, flames were discovered issuing from a frame stable on the premises of A. D. Hartley, on Beaver avenue. The flames spread with great rapidity, and by the time the firemen arrived the stable was in ruins. Three horses perished in the flames; also, a lot of harness, feed, etc., were destroyed. The stable was a small dilapidated building, and the total loss, including the horses, will not exceed seven hundred dollars, fully covered by insurance in the Ben Franklin Insurance Company. The origin of the fire is not definitely known, but it is supposed that it originated from a lantern which the driver had while feeding the horses.

SAMUEL LETY, a well known contractor and builder in this city, left the city yesterday afternoon for an extensive Western tour, and will be absent three or four months. He goes for the benefit of his health, and his many friends hope that he may return with restored health and vigor. On the 12th of next month, he will join the California excursionists at Indianapolis, and start for that far off State. He will also visit Colorado, Oregon and other Western States.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Regular Meeting—Ordinance for the Establishment of a Board of Health Passed Finally—The Park Music—Petition for a New Lock-up—The Third Ward Fountain.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of Allegheny Councils was held last evening.

Select Council.

This branch was called to order at eight o'clock by the President. The roll was then called and all the members found to be present.

On motion the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The following petitions, etc., were presented and referred to appropriate committees: A petition for grading and paving Spring alley; a petition for laying water pipe in the same; a petition for grading and paving Sedgwick street; petition for continuation of Sedgwick street sewer to river; petition for widening Irwin avenue; petition for change of grade of Vista street; an ordinance for the grading and paving of Stockton avenue, laid over; a remonstrance against laying a gas main on Rebecca street; a remonstrance against paving Jalappa street; a resolution for the construction of a sewer on Fremont street.

THE STREETS.

Mr. Patterson, from the Street Committee, presented a report. The Committee reported favorably in relation to the paving of Stockton avenue with the wooden pavement. They also recommended the passage of an ordinance for the widening of the sidewalks on South Diamond street, from West Diamond street to Sherman avenue. In relation to the grading and paving of Jackson street, the Committee reported an ordinance under the amended street law. The following ordinances accompanied the report: For paving Stockton avenue with a wooden pavement; for appointment of viewers on Jackson street; for widening sidewalks on South Diamond street; for grading Lowrie from west side of Ravine street to the city line.

The report was received and the accompanying ordinances passed finally, except the ordinance for the laying of a wooden pavement on Stockton avenue, which was lost.

Mr. Heaggy presented a resolution that the Street Commissioner be instructed to put Rebecca street in proper repair and charge the same to the Pittsburgh and Manchester Railway Company. Adopted.

Also, a resolution instructing the Street Commissioner to enforce the ordinance providing for the filling in of the ponds in the Fifth ward. Adopted.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Mr. Phillips inquired the action of Council at last meeting on the ordinance providing for the establishment of a Board of Health.

The President read the indorsement on the ordinance, showing that Select Council had receded in their action, and concurred in the action of Common Council, after which the ordinance was read once and laid over under the rules.

Mr. Phillips then moved that the rules be suspended and the ordinance passed finally. The ayes and nays were called, and the ordinance passed by 10 ayes to 6 nays. Common Council concurred.

Select Council then took up business from Common Council, after which they adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Voegtly was called to the chair. Roll called and minutes read and approved.

The following petitions, &c., were presented, which were referred to appropriate committees: A petition for lateral sewer on Orchard alley; a remonstrance against a sewer on Jefferson street and Shields alley; a petition for the proper drainage of Page street; a petition for the grading and paving of Spring alley; a resolution for the numbering of houses in the Ninth ward, which was passed; a petition to extend the water pipe to Benton street.

LOCK-UP WANTED.

Mr. Shipton, of the Ninth ward, presented a petition for a lock-up in that ward, which was referred to the Police Committee.

THE PARK MUSIC.

Common Council now took up unfinished business, and concurred in all actions of Select Council, except in the resolution adopted at last meeting of Select Council, authorizing an appropriation of five hundred dollars for music in the Park.

When the resolution was read, a member said he was opposed to having music in the Park. The music had already attracted a great number of rowdies, not only from Allegheny, but also from Pittsburgh, and if continued, respectable people could not attend.

Mr. Walter moved to lay the resolution on the table. Carried.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mr. Hastings offered a resolution requesting the Committee on City Property to report to Councils the net cost of the new drinking fountain in the Third ward square, as he was informed that more money was expended than Councils had appropriated. The resolution was carried.

Mr. McNeill presented an ordinance for the laying of a wooden pavement on Stockton avenue, under special assessment. Read three times and passed. A remonftrance in Select Council against the laying of the wooden pavement was laid on the table.

Common Council then took up business form Select Council and concurred in all actions of that body except where otherwise noted. Council then adjourned.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The Birmingham Public Schools—The Closing Exercises of the Year—Professor Huey's Music Class.

The public schools of the borough of Birmingham are second to none in this county in point of excellence, and we doubt if there are better schools in the State. In one point at least this school excels all others in this locality, and that is in vocal music. Professor G. W. Huey has had charge of the musical department of the schools for about seventeen years, and a more thoroughly drilled school in that branch of study would be difficult to find.

The closing exercises of the year took place last evening in the school hall, and a more pleasant entertainment of the character it has seldom been our privilege to attend.

The hall was filled to its utmost capacity with the parents and friends of the scholars, and at a quarter pest seven o'clock the several classes entered the room and took their seats on the platform, and five minutes after the exercises were opened by the scholars singing "Columbia Rules the Sea," with an instrumental accompaniment on the organ and violin by Miss Hare and Prof. Huey.

The fourth chapter of Proverbs was then read by the class in concert, Prof. Jones, the Principal, leading, after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in concert by the scholars. The reading contest by the second class, under the direction of Miss Kate Knowles, the Assistant Principal. Another song followed, after which the reading of this class was concluded. Then followed a class drill of the Latin class, after which Prof. Huey examined the music class which was one of the most interesting features of the entertainment. The school not only excels in singing, but their knowledge of the theory of music shows conclusively that Prof. Huey is a most thorough instructor, both practically and theoretically.

At the close of the examination Prof. Huey addressed the audience briefly, and during his remarks stated that he had been connected with the school for over seventeen years, and that he was satisfied that there was not a school in the State which excelled the Birmingham in this branch of science. He spoke of the advantages of a knowledge of music. His remarks were exceedingly interesting, and would have been more extended had it not been for the noise and confusion created by a few ill-mannered boys in the hall. There is no doubt that Prof. Huey is one of the best musical instructors in the State, and the progress made by this school will bear ample testimony to the fact.

The reading contest of the first class came next, and after several songs by the class and one or two solos, Mr. Alexander Husted recited "Barbara Fritchie," which was elegantly rendered.

The judges then made their report on the reading contest, awarding the prizes as follows: First class—first honor, Eddie Hays; second honors, Maggie Foley and Alexander Husted; third honors, Amelia Klags and Sallie Jenkins. Second class—first honor, Andrew Easton; second, Aggie Galbreath, Nellie Parsons and Joseph Ward; third honor, Emma Laughran and Willie Doyle.

After the decision had been announced those scholars awarded the first honor were presented with books donated by the Directors.

After another song Prof. Benj. Jones, the worthy Principal of the schools, announced the names of the scholars receiving the honors for recitations, attendance, &c., as follows:

First Class—Daniel Henke, first honor; Sallie Jenkins and Tillie McCutcheon, second, and Lizzie Natcher, third.

Second Class—Willie Doyle, first; Ellie Evans, second; Aggie Galbreath and Hatty Patterson, third.

Third Class—Joseph Ward, first; Hugh Young, second and George Zeifel third.

The scholars taking the honors in the first or graduating class were each presented with a neat volume, the titles of which we did not learn.

After another song Professor Jones thanked the audience, the Board of Directors, Professor Huey, Miss Hare and Miss Knowles, his assistants, for many kindnesses extended to him.

Professor Pope was present and sang several songs, which we regret to say were of a character better suited for a bar room than an entertainment of that character.

Mr. Aughenbaugh, the President of the Board of Directors, was called upon by Mr. Jones, and responded, and in the course of his remarks said that he was highly pleased with the entertainment, with the exception of the songs introduced, meaning those to which we have above referred, for which he desired to say the Board were not responsible.

The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. Mr. Smith, after which the audience dispersed.

The entertainment was a most excellent one, and one of which not only the scholars who took part in it, but the teachers, board of directors and parents may well feel proud. Prof. Huey, of McKeesport, to whom the school is indebted for its proficiency in the science of music, may justly feel proud of the success that has attended his labors in this school, and we regret that every school in the State could not secure the services of so valuable a teacher.

Public Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The public interest in the entertainments being given at our theater by Miss Jane Coombs and her company seems to increase. The house was filled last evening by a select audience, to witness Lovell's interesting play called "Love's Sacrifice." In this piece Miss Jane Coombs, as Margaret Elmore, gave us new evidence of her great dramatic power. In the scenes requiring the display of intense feeling—love, grief, fear and hatred—she was grand, and won the heartiest applause. Mr. Robinson's Mathew Elmore was a master effort, and deserves especial commendation. We have not room to speak in detail of all the characters in the cast, but will say that nearly all were excellently personated.

To-night Miss Jane Coombs has her benefit, when Shakespeare's always popular tragedy of "Romeo and Juliet" will be performed. The lady is eminently deserving, and we expect to see a very crowded house.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—"Rank" was performed for the second time here last evening, by Miss Lina Edwin and her New York company. The attendance was fair, and the play warmly received. Should Miss Edwin visit the city when the counter attractions are less, we have no doubt she would meet with better success.

SMITHFIELD STREET BUSINESS PROPERTIES BY AUCTION.

It is not, alone, that to-day Smithfield street is one of the very great thoroughfares of our city. This is an accomplished fact. But our shrewd men perceive what is immediately to become the great and growing business of Smithfield street. Witness the "Howard Block," and Judge Mellon's magnificent improvement, all now in course of rapid erection; and evidencing a wise provision for the increased business requirements of a year or two hence. It is only in the course of legal sales to settle estates that any Smithfield street property is now offered on the market. Such is the circumstance under which are to be sold two very desirable pieces, on next Tuesday afternoon. One is the corner property, No. 146 Smithfield street, including Nos. 48 and 50 Sixth avenue. The other is that excellent four-story brick business house, No. 135 Smithfield street. For particulars see the auction advertisement of Thomas M. Marshall, trustee. The sale will be on the premises, Tuesday, June 27th, at 3 o'clock, by A. McIlwaine, auctioneer.

GET THE BEST.

Purchasers in the country, who are unable to visit the manufactory themselves, should be careful, in ordering crackers from their grocer, to specify Marvin & Co.'s manufacture. Those who desire a superior article of crackers, cakes or biscuit, should remember to send for Marvin & Co.'s, if they cannot supply themselves personally at the bakery, Nos. 91 and 93 Liberty street. By Steam! By Steam!

Everything is done by steam now-a-days, yet the majority of people are not aware that ice scream is now being made in our city by the aid of this great agent. Such is the fact, as any one of our readers can ascertain by visiting the Pittsburgh Steam Ice Cream Works, No. 61 Fifth avenue. This establishment possesses wonderful facilities, indeed unsurpassed in this vicinity, for turning out immense quantities of the great delicacy of the season on the shortest possible notice. The pure cream alone is used in the manufacture of the delicacy, and the fluid is obtained directly from the dairy under the management of the proprietor, a short distance from the city. Some two hundred freezers used in the manufacture of ice cream have just been ordered, additional to those in use, in order to supply the great demand. The managers of church fairs, festivals, pic-nics, or social gatherings of any kind, will find it advantageous to make their arrangements for ice cream at the steam ice cream works, No. 61 Fifth avenue. The house is able to turn out two hundred and twenty-five gallons on ten hour's notice, which is sufficient evidence of the immense capacity of the establishment. Another great consideration is that saucers and spoons can be obtained at the manufactory of the cream, without extra charge. Mr. Levy, the agent in charge of the business, will be most happy to exhibit the machinery used in manufacturing ice cream to all who may call at 61 Fifth avenue. Families can order and have sent home any amount of ice cream, from a quart (which costs but fifty cents,) up to gallons, on the shortest notice. Pedestrians, ladies and gentlemen, in passing along Fifth avenue, should drop into the beautifully furnished saloon, a few doors below the postoffice, where they will find cream of all flavors, in order. Mrs. A. Myers recently disposed of her interest in the establishment, and the Pittsburgh Ice Cream Works are now under the sole control of the agent, Mr. Levy, who will be pleased to meet and entertain, all who may visit 61 Fifth avenue. Parties living at a distance from the city can send orders my mail or telegraph, and the ice cream will be delivered at the depot without extra charge. They are also agents for the justly celebrated Triumph Soda Fountain.

One of the greatest remedies, which has achieved a popularity surpassing any other preparation ever introduced to the public, is Brady's Family Bitters. It is a certain cure for chills and fever, or diseases of the liver and kidneys, dysentary and flux, as well as dyspepsia, and has no equal. The Strongest Testimony

Of any to be found in favor of any medicine that we have ever known is that which we have recorded in the COMMERCIAL for the past year, corroborative of the extraordinary powers of Dr. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER. Not simply here and there a case that set at naught all other tried remedies and compounds, but cases in every part of the city and vicinity, whose violence had defied every known means of cure. Dr. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER seems to possess almost talismanic virtues, equalled only by the extraordinary skill of the Doctor himself, when brought to bear against the inroads and ravages of disease. We have the pleasure herewith to append another certificate of cure, by one of our most reliable citizens, which we commend to the notice of the afflicted:

TO DR. GEORGE H. KEYSER:

SIR: Permit me to return to you my sincere thanks for the time, labor and expense which you have given in the search of that great combination of curatives which you have so wisely concentrated in your unequaled BLOOD SEARCHER.

I have used it in my family for the past two years with unfailing success, and am fully convinced that it saved the life of one member of my family.

In cases of debility, of scrofula, of diseases of the eye, or any disorganization of the digestive organs, or of the blood, it has no equal.

I cheerfully bear my unsolicited testimony to its efficacy and powerful curative properties, and would unhesitatingly recommend it to the afflicted.
